NET CLOSING ON DANCER'S SLAYER

Identification of Dead Girl's Companion Is Predicted By San Diego Police

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 19.—Positive identification of the man who accompanied pretty Fritz Mann, Oriental dancer, to the "love nest" at La Jolla on the night before her semi-nude body was found on the sands below Torrey Pines was expected by the San Diego police today.

Police announced they had found finger prints of a man and a woman on the nearly empty bottle containing a few drops of whiskey which was found in the cottage known to have been occupied by the couple for a portion of last Sunday night.

Finger prints of the woman have been compared with those of Miss Mann and found to tally to the most minute detail. The finger prints of the man will be compared today to those of Dr. Louis D. Jacobs, Camp Kearney surgeon, and Rogers W. B. Clark, film promoter in Los Angeles, who are now held in the San Diego city prison on suspicion of murder.

To Face Landlord
Clark has been partially identified as the man who rented the "love nest" at La Jolla Sunday night. A. E. Kern, owner of the cottage, was shown a picture of Clark. He studied it for several moments.

"That looks very much like the man," he said.

"Can't you be sure," Detective Sergeant Richard Chadwick added.

"I would not be absolutely certain until I see the man," said Kern, "but it looks very much like him."

Kern and Clark will be brought face to face today in Chief of Police James Patrick's office.

Police believe the whiskey found in the bottle at the "love nest" was drugged. It has been sent to a chemist for analysis and a report is expected today.

START INQUIRY ON FATAL ACCIDENT

Naval Authorities Seek Cause of Crash in Which One Dies, Seven Hurt

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19.—With the body of Lieut. William Rohrbach held on the hospital ship Mercy at Los Angeles harbor and seven other naval officers and enlisted men being treated for various injuries, a naval investigation was begun today into what is declared to have been one of the most serious and spectacular catastrophes in the history of naval aviation.

The crash occurred late yesterday when the naval seaplane No. 2 of the S-5-L type, stationed at San Diego, crashed into the rocks off Abalone Point, Avalon bay. Lieutenant Rohrbach was instantly killed and the plane completely wrecked.

Blame Heavy Fog
The three seriously injured officers were rushed to Los Angeles harbor. They were: Lieutenant Gardner, badly bruised about the head and suffering from internal injuries; Ensign A. Woodman, naval observer, both legs broken, and Ensign M. M. Coles, broken ankle. Heavy fog and confusion of signals is said to have caused the accident.

FIGHT APPOINTMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—A spirited fight has developed over the appointment of James G. McNary of New Mexico to be comptroller of the currency, it was disclosed today when the senate banking and currency committee, after a lengthy session, again failed to confirm the appointment.

STAR'S ASHES WILL BE PLACED HERE AFTER FUNERAL

Remains of Wallace Reid Will Be Put in Crypt at Forest Lawn

Glendale is to furnish the setting for the final event in the life story of Wallace Reid, loved here of the screen, for, it was learned today, that following the cremation after the funeral services tomorrow, the ashes will be placed indefinitely in a crypt at Forest Lawn Memorial park.

The funeral services are to be held at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the First Congregational church, in Los Angeles. The services will be concluded at the church, it was announced. The services will be open to the public.

Ritual by Elks
Rev. Neal Dodd, known as the "chaplain of the movies," will conduct the services, which will be of the Episcopal church. The Elks' lodge No. 99, of which the famous actor was a member, will also read their ritual over the body.

The body will lie in state all day tomorrow, until the time of the funeral, at the church.

Estate Falls Away
Although one of the highest paid motion picture actors, and his income during the past few years totaling more than a million dollars, Wallace Reid left an estate estimated at considerably less than $100,000, it was learned today.

The actor's immense fortune, as persons in touch with his financial affairs said, dwindled rapidly during the last few years and during the last few months of his life he was forced to rely upon the $500 a week given him by the Lasky corporation.

With his comparatively small estate Reid left $70,000 in life insurance. His De Long Pre-arranged funeral home, which had property and notes, which will not amount to $100,000, it is said.

Studios to Close
As a solemn tribute to the lovely actor, Hollywood's motion picture studios will be closed tomorrow.

Today Mrs. Reid faces another great ordeal, that of telling little Billy, the actor's son, and Betty, their adopted daughter, that their father is dead. News of his death was kept from them yesterday, and while their mother wept in her room with great sorrow last night, they played and talked of the day when "Daddy" would come back to them.

The famous actor is believed to have been fully aware of the fact that the end was near, for he realized his weight of 200 pounds had been diminished to 120 pounds, but his iron will and determination to live and "come back" staved off death for weeks.

REV. E. E. FORD TELLS ABOUT HIS FIRST GIRL, FIRST JOB

Baptist Pastor Once In Love With Sister of Great Motor Concern's President

AN interesting sidelight on yesterday's Rotary club luncheon was shed when President Roy L. Kent called upon three members to talk three minutes each on the topic, "My First Job and My First Girl." Rev. E. E. Ford, pastor of the First Baptist church, deplored and said that he left his home in Broom county, New York, at the age of 14 and that his first job was on a farm. His first girl, he said, was Mamie—Miss Mamie Franklin, sister of H. H. Franklin, president of the motor company that bears his name.

Rev. Ford went on to tell very briefly how he had worked his way through school and college and into the ministry. He came to California sixteen years ago, he concluded, and never wants to live in a better place, even in the event somebody could find one.

David G. Croft then offered the cryptic remarks that his first job was as a cash boy and his first girl was named Nellie.

Francis J. W. Henry, the last of the "Three Minute Men," pronounced several times the name of the town in Scotland where he was born, but no one present was able to understand it. In any rate, the town was near Dundee.

Gets No Salary
Mr. Henry's first job (he failed to mention the name of girl No. 1) was as an apprentice in an architect's office, but as this work paid no salary whatever, he eventually gave it up and moved into a lawyer's office across the hall. There he remained until the Boer war came, whereupon he enlisted with a volunteer regiment and went to South Africa, where he received a medal with six bars. Summing up his impressions of war epigrammatically, Mr. Henry said: "The goin's a' richt an' the comin' home's a' richt—it's the interval between that's tough!"

MARION, Ill., Jan. 19.—"Not guilty." The jury came in at 10:45, being out twenty-six hours and a half. The attorneys for both sides had about given up hope of an agreement when Judge Hartwell was summoned from his home. The vote had been a majority for acquittal from the start. Only after long arguments were all the jurors brought into line.

The court was jammed when the verdict was read by Judge Hartwell.

There were eleven farmers on the panel, two being former miners. The twelfth was a union miner who farmed part of the time.

NOVEL IDEA AIDS BUILDING RECORD

Superintendent Calls Upon City of Glendale for Increase in Permits

Business was rather quiet yesterday in the building department of the city hall and only $11,950 worth of permits would have been issued—if Superintendent H. C. Vandewater had not begun to wrack his brain for a method of stimulating business.

Finally a brilliant idea seized him. With haste he hurried upstairs to the desk of J. C. Sherer, city treasurer, and collected $14 a fee for the issuance of a city permit for the municipal swimming pool. "He proceeded to give the City of Glendale a building permit for $13,000 to cover this improvement."

Then he happened to think about the immense warehouse being built in the rear of the city hall. Records showed that no permit for it had been issued.

Another $12.80 came out of the city treasury to cover this building which will be valued at $11,755.

Not content with this Mr. Vandewater proceeded to write a special permit for its cement foundation, which cost $3,245, and for which he collected another $4.20.

Ideas Worth Money
As a result of these thoughts, his city treasury is poorer by $31 and the building department is enriched by this amount.

"Did we get the money?" repeated Mr. Vandewater. "You bet we did!"

Anyhow, January's record at the city hall this morning was $781.17.

Permits issued recently included the following:

City of Glendale, steel warehouse, 117 North Howard street.....$ 15,000
City of Glendale, swimming pool, 601 Patterson avenue.....13,000
Ticket & McFadden, 5 rooms and garage, 1112 Princeton street.....4,200

SUPERVISOR HENRY W. WRIGHT TELLS OF REGIONAL PLANNING

Glendale Real Estate Board Members Hear About Problems Confronting District

THE aims and purposes of the recently created regional planning commission were discussed at length by Supervisor Henry W. Wright at the weekly meeting of the Glendale Realty Board at the Broadway Inn yesterday, when he stressed the necessity that exists for close co-operation between the various communities of the county if the problems that are common to all of them are to be solved in a manner that will react to the benefit of the entire county.

Several problems stand out above all others, declared Mr. Wright, chief of these being sewage disposal, traffic and flood control. Many plans are submitted at every meeting of the county supervisors in which no attention is paid to the proper linking up of one community with another, said the speaker, and it is part of the duty of the regional planning commission to see that these maps and plans are arranged so that each district may be linked with its neighbors in such a way as to work for the development of the county as a commonwealth, before they are presented to the supervisors for approval.

The laws at present on the books of the state, said Mr. Wright, make no provision for the formation or the upkeep of sewage systems or disposal plants, and in order to remedy this condition the supervisors' counsel is now working on the draft of a bill to be presented to the present legislature, that will permit cities to combine to work out a proper system of sewage districts and for their continued maintenance. The proposed bill provides for the submission of the questions involved in the formation of sewage districts to a vote of the people.

Tell of Problems
Another difficulty that faces the commission is the handling of traffic over the present roads and the linking up of the various communities in Los Angeles county by a system of boulevards and highways that will be able to care for the amount of travel that is flowing over them in a constantly growing stream. Plans are now under consideration for (Continued on Page 14)

CONTRACTORS IN GLENDALE ACTIVE

Modern Homes Are Under Way in Many Quarters of Fastest Growing City

Two ten-room tile houses on the southeast corner of Louise and Ross streets are being completed under the direction of Contractor Nathan Rigdon of 224 West Doran street, who has sold one of them already.

C. E. Edwards of Los Angeles, who purchased the house at 400 East Ross street, expects to take possession of it before long.

Large basements are features of both houses. With the exception of the laundries, which have cement floors, all other rooms are furnished with hardwood. Heat will be furnished by gas furnaces. One of the houses has an open cement porch, while the other has a sun porch. Both have open porches over the entrance.

BUILD TWO BUNGALOWS

Window screens are being put in place in the two five-room stucco bungalows being built on the northwest corner of Fairview and Louise street for Miss A. L. Smith of 1007 North Louise street. A lot is watching their construction with interest.

A feature of the corner bungalow is the ornamentation upon the exterior of the fireplace.

May and Hellman of 205 East Broadway, who received this contract, hope to have these bungalows ready for occupancy in about a month.

The lure of Glendale compelled J. N. Campbell to return here recently from Bowling Green, Ohio.

Mr. Campbell is stopping temporarily at 662 West Lexington drive, but is working each day upon his new home at 412 East Lorraine street, which he hopes to have finished in about three weeks.

A red brick porch and driveway is expected to add color to the surroundings.

MAKES QUICK SALE

Two five-room houses are being built at 417 and 418 East Stocker street for J. C. Craig of Burbank. One of them, which has been sold already, is about half finished. The other will be completed as soon as the hardwood floors have been laid. Exterior of the houses will be cream yellow in color.

Contractor C. J. H. Peaky of 2175 Locust avenue, Long Beach, is now building a two-story frame ten-room duplex at 204 East Dryden street for Richard W. Phillip. Mr. and Mrs. Phillip are occupying a small home on the rear of their property.

EIGHT-ROOM HOUSE

Four bedrooms and a bath room occupy the second floor of the eight-room house being built by Contractor J. L. Murphy of 905 North Central avenue at 406 East Randolph street for himself.

E. J. Schrandt of Lankershim is now building himself a home at 3307 Atwater avenue so that he can be closer to Glendale.

Interior woodwork remains to be put into the new home of Edward Jaeger at 1126 Campbell street, which is nearing completion.

ESSEN, Jan. 19.—Five thousand German miners employed in the Prussian state owned coal mines which were requisitioned by the French went on strike this afternoon.

By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service
ESSEN, Jan. 19.—A number of coal mine managers in the Ruhr fields were arrested by the French today because they refused to obey French orders to make deliveries to the allies. These were the first actual arrests. The previous "arrest" of mine owners and directors were of a technical nature, the men being ordered to deliver themselves up to the French military tribunals.

The French this afternoon arrested the president of the Prussian mines at Recklinghausen for disobedience.

One of the German prisoners was marched off by French troops, who carried bayoneted rifles.

Two German officials were arrested. "Coal expediting agents" were held incommunicado after their arrest on the charge of refusing to surrender data to the French.

The workers' councils demanded the release of the arrested mine directors.

FINAL ULTIMATUM

The French requisitioned four coke furnaces capable of producing 12,000 tons daily.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon the miners delivered their final ultimatum threatening to strike if arrests continued and if the mine directors already arrested were not released.

The German technical staffs of the occupied mines quit work.

PRUSSIAN STATE OWNED COAL MINES TAKEN OVER

DUSSELDORF, Jan. 19.—Prussian state owned coal mines were requisitioned by the French today. The French have warned the miners, railway men and steel and iron workers not to strike.

Most of the state owned mines taken over are on the Buer and Westerholz districts.

No privately owned mines were requisitioned.

All the Prussian state owned mines had been occupied by the middle of the afternoon. The miners issued an ultimatum that they would strike unless the French troops left the pits. Shortly afterward the soldiers were withdrawn and stationed some distance from the pits.

The local branch of the Reichsbank (national state bank) was occupied by the French today.

It was reported from Essen that a German mission would leave later in the day for London to appeal to the British to intervene between the French and Germans.

President Schlutius of the Rhineland district branch of the state finance department, was arrested for refusing to turn over documents to the military authorities and conveyed by motor car to some unknown destination.

Mayor Bredney, of Mulheim, who was ordered to arrest a number of mine owners and directors and take them before French military tribunals for trial, sent word he had no authority to take such action.

'FIGHTING PARSON' SCORES PRESENT CONDITIONS

Religious Revival Is Crying
Need of Times, Says
Rev. 'Bob' Shuler

The Fathers and Sons banquet at the annex of the Methodist church in Eagle Rock Thursday night was largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed by both the old and the young boys. "Bob" Shuler, the "Fighting Parson," of Los Angeles was the principal speaker. A good musical program by the boys' orchestra of the Sunday school and a male quartet consisting of the Hammonds, father and son, Fisher and Thompson, was rendered in a delightful manner. Mrs. Trueman accompanied. Many compliments were handed the ladies for their excellent menu.

In opening the meeting, Rev. E. J. Bradner stated the function was under the auspices of the women of the church. He gave somewhat of a history of the Eagle Rock organization and what it had accomplished. He stated the Eagle Rock church held the record in the United States for achievement the past year and gave the credit to his predecessors. He said the annex was fearfully and wonderfully built and was the first public hall in the city. He said the greatest joke among the members was and had been, that "we have a good location." The members propose to take advantage of that fact and erect a handsome edifice in the near future, was his conclusion.

The program was opened with prayer by Dr. Gilliland, who shortly after gave a very good talk on and for the boys. The chairman then introduced "Bob" Shuler.

World Growing Worse

The speaker prefaced his remarks with a complimentary address to the ladies. He said they were, and had always been, leaders in every movement, good or bad. That may have been true enough to follow them to the heights and others did not have any more sense than to follow them to the depths.

The thread running through the speaker's discourse was that "Day by day, in every way, the world is getting worse and worse." As proof of his assertions he cited the program he alleged existed at Pershing Park, Los Angeles, where he claimed that anarchy, bolshevism and other isms that would undermine the foundation of the nation were discussed openly every day of the year. He said if he had his way, he would tear every man, woman and child out of the square and plant the lot to corn for ten years, in order to rid the very soil of the iniquity and sin it had absorbed.

He paid his respects, in no uncertain manner, to the foreign element that was flooding our shores with criminals, bootleggers and the like, and said that while he had been quoted by one publication as having said he would like to meet every incoming ship with a load of immigrants and toss them one by one into the sea, it wasn't so, as he would gladly reach out the hand of good fellowship to anyone entering our country who was willing to become 100 per cent American.

Nation in Danger

The speaker said he had traced the rise and fall of nations and that agencies were now at work undermining the very foundation of our own and unless the individual, the church, organizations and all did not turn right-about face and get back to the old time religion, where the Sabbath was a Holy day instead of a day of reckless pleasure, civilization was doomed. He said no amount of social revolution, moral reform or civic repair could save the civilization. That the remedy and the only one was to get right with God.

He said the American home was not what it used to be. It had become a place where people eat and sleep and entertain. "Father" was too much occupied with his business and "Mother" with her poodle to give the boy and girl what they needed.

Flappers Are Scored.

He said American modesty of womanhood had been backed off the map by the wild free notions of the flapper borrowed from the red light districts of Paris and other southern European centers. In conclusion, the speaker declared the cure for all these ills was that "Those who love America must come to their knees. They must dedicate to themselves a holy, though bloodless warfare. They must call their children about them and feed them again at the tables of Christian idealism. They must rescue this nation from cold realism and damning materialism. They must demand that men born beyond the seas must respect our flag and honor our constitution."

"A revival of religion is the crying demand of these times," said the speaker. Men must return to faith in God; loyalty to their relation to Jesus Christ, His Son, our Lord and Savior. The Bible must become again God's own and very revelation."

DEFENDS CHIEF OF POLICE IN SUIT IN L.A. COURT

Trustees Instruct Attorney to Resist Habeas Corpus
Move by Keplinger

City Attorney Rolin L. McNitt of Eagle Rock has been authorized by resolution of the Board of Trustees of Eagle Rock to defend Police Chief Claude Bramble in the district court of appeals in Los Angeles, January 22, when the habeas corpus proceedings instituted by H. Keplinger's attorneys is to be heard.

Keplinger was found guilty of violating a city ordinance in conducting his sanatorium in a "forbidden" district in Eagle Rock, and given a jail sentence. He was placed in charge of Chief of Police Bramble, technically furnished bail and immediately instituted habeas corpus proceedings to prevent the sentence of the court being executed.

It will be the city attorney's task to resist the proceedings and to protect the interest of the city, the latter maintaining that the validity of Ordinance No. 123, covering the case in hand, is being attacked by Mr. Keplinger's attorneys.

THURSDAY CLUB'S PROGRAM PLEASES

Mrs. A. L. Bancroft Hostess
To Members; Affair Is Complete Success

tion of Women's clubs, was unanimously adopted. Mrs. Mabry spoke briefly to the motion.

Mrs. Mabry and Mrs. Bancroft reported a very pleasant day at Hollywood where they were the guests of the Hollywood Woman's club on their reciprocity day.

Plan Card Party
Announcement was made of the card party to be held at the residence of Mrs. E. V. Bacon, 3802 Revere street, on Saturday night, January 20, for the benefit of the club building fund.

At the request of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce that one member of the club should be appointed to serve on a civic committee, Mrs. Morgan was appointed.

At the close of the business session the president, Mrs. Mabry, in a most gracious speech in which she spoke of the hostesses as brimming with joy in having her old friend with her this afternoon, presented the speaker of the day, Mrs. Sumner P. Hunt, past president of the Eboli club, Los Angeles.

Paper Pleases

The theme of Mrs. Hunt's paper was the young intellectuals—their revolt from the established order of things in literature, art and religion, and their plea for what they termed freedom. With keen analysis, gentle sarcasm and with the most kindly tolerance of youth, the speaker delighted her hearers. In handling her subject there were hints of a keen interest in psychoanalysis, and a most enjoyable discussion along that line was held with her over the tapeless later by a number of the guests.

Mrs. Hunt also reviewed two books by Floyd Dell, who is considered an exponent of the so-called young intellectuals.

Excellent Program

The following very delightful program was given by pupils of Pearl Kellar's dancing school: The Highland Flair, Eleanor Marek, in Scotch costume, reading, "She Powders Her Nose," and a dainty, fancy dance by Marie Louise Brown in a very sophisticated gown of yellow with yellow tulle bows on her curls. "A Garden Dance," Ann Elizabeth Wilkinson, with pink parasol and feather fan, and "Butterfly Dance" in costume. "The Artist" an interpretive dance by Dorothy Burton in the costume of an artist.

TWO ACT PLAY AT CHURCH ANNEX ON JAN. 25TH

Chautauqua Entertainer Will Give Dramatic Reading
For Methodists

Miss Edna Eugenia Lowe, for many years on the lecture platform with the Ellison-White chautauqua people, has been engaged by members of the Methodist church of Eagle Rock to give one of her delightful readings at the annex next Thursday night.

Miss Lowe was in Eagle Rock yesterday, a guest of Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Bradner. She has been spending her vacation at Pasadena and only consented to appear in Eagle Rock after considerable persuasion on the part of Eagle Rock citizens. Miss Lowe has toured every state in the Union during her twelve years of chautauqua work, and all of Canada but the province of Ontario. She is scheduled for that section this summer and will go direct from Pasadena.

Miss Lowe is also an author of note, one of her productions, "Health Hints and Danger Signals," having received merited approval from the reading public.

The subject she has chosen to present Thursday evening is, "Mother by the Day," a two-act play written by Julie Littman. Miss Lowe stated that about one and three-quarter hours would be consumed in the reading.

with palette and brush. Skaters' Dance by Cecilia Mae Fisher, in a costume of white satin and swan's down, with tiny sleigh bells jingling, and Washington Post dance in patriotic costume.

Miss Gertrude Champlain, at the piano, interpreted the dances with her well known delicacy and feeling.

It was a matter of interest that three of the little dancers took their first lessons in that very room when the Pearl Kellar dancing school occupied the Bancroft residence during a period of four years.

Delicious refreshments, of sandwiches, cake and tea, were served during the social hour following the program by the assisting hostesses, Mrs. Hal Davenport, Mrs. Ella Garther, Mrs. Preston S. Fox, Miss May Cornwell, Mrs. Charles A. Barker and Mrs. S. E. Brown.

Women are now acting as treasurers in eight counties in Nebraska.

Tomatoes are said to ripen best by the light of the moon.

Mustaches Barred On College Campus

DEFIANCE, Ohio, Jan. 19.—Persons who are old-fashioned enough to think that women are the most precise about their observance of the ruling fashions have never spent much time on the Defiance college campus.

On the campus it is decidedly out of order for the freshmen to boast dainty decorations on the upper lip.

Two of the innocents, promptly nurturing the tender tendrils for the holiday trip home, awoke to a sudden realization that campus custom can't be crossed with safety when they were aroused from their slumbers in Sisson hall (men's dormitory) by the none too gentle application of barbers' clippers.

And then, just to show that campus tradition is a leveler of

Introduces Discord Into Village Band

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, Jan. 19.—Professor Fred Beck thought he had the new village band playing "Onward, Christian Soldiers." He found, however, that someone was playing "Lead, Kindly Light."

Investigation disclosed that Lawrence E. Imhoff, clerk of Belmont county courts, was musically "A. W. O. L." Imhoff, who served with the marines at Chateau Thierry, said he was tired of soldiering. But the other 17 players refused to follow the lead of Imhoff's horn, and he fell into line.

Today there are no mustaches on the college campus—except on two professors.

Social Events

New College Club

Added evidence of the growth of Glendale is seen in the gathering tomorrow's club noon at the home of Mrs. Warren Roberts at 617 East Elk street, where Glendale college and university women will meet to participate in an epochal event in local women's affairs, the organization of the Glendale College Women's club.

Wherever collegiate organizations are in existence they are recognized by their activities, as vital forces in community affairs and the Glendale organization will undoubtedly grow rapidly into a live civic and social unit.

The meeting tomorrow is to begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock and the afternoon is to be a very full one.

Miss Anne Mumford, prominent member of the Los Angeles University Women's club, will be the guest of honor and speaker. In addition formal steps toward organization will be taken. Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, temporary chairman, will preside over the business procedure. A committee on constitution and by-laws will be named and will retire from the gathering and draw up the necessary documents for proceeding with the naming of the required committees.

High School P. T. A.

Pupils of the Glendale Union High school are assisting the Parent-Teachers' association in the "Fathers' Night" celebration to be held at the school tonight. The program to be presented at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium will be given entirely by the pupils. Following this an informal social hour will be enjoyed.

Mrs. W. Q. Widdows, president of the association, has invited all high school parents and friends to attend the gathering.

The program will be:

Plan Noon Lunch

At the meeting of St. Mark's Guild yesterday the women decided to hold business lunches every Thursday from 12 till 1 o'clock. Several business women have expressed the desire for a new place to eat at the noon hour and the Guild women have planned this way of adding to their general fund. The lunches will be served at a nominal cost and all business people are invited, according to Mrs. A. A. Bassett, president.

Twenty-nine women were present at the meeting and took part in planning activities for the year. They decided upon one big bazaar for the year, to be held just before the winter holidays. It is their plan to work all year on articles for this bazaar.

Plan Costuming

A large group of Tuesday Afternoon club members and guests are planning on attending the barn dance tonight in costume, according to Mrs. J. H. Seales, chairman of the dance committee, and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman of the ways and means committee.

They state that many of the club women are planning on wearing bungalow aprons, while several of the men are going to wear outing clothes.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Postle of 501 West Broadway avenue are going to entertain a group of friends at the dance, as is also Mrs. E. Snyder, a club member living in Pasadena.

Club Women Sew

The members of the patriotic, local relief and calling committee, the Tuesday Afternoon club, pledged themselves recently to furnish the funds for the linen for the new club home and to this end they met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Robert White at 347 North Orange street. During the afternoon thirty-seven tablecloths were finished under the direction of Mrs. Lillian E. Dow, chairman.

Those assisting were Mesdames E. W. Gilliland, C. R. Hallett, Alexander Mitchell, A. W. Tower, D. L. Gregg, J. D. Camerer, E. A. Bode, S. P. Davis, L. E. Dow and J. R. White.

Gives Luncheon

Mrs. S. A. Trowbridge of 437 Burchett street entertained with a luncheon yesterday in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. R. Trowbridge, from Portland, Ore. Those present, in addition to the hostess and guest of honor, were Mrs. C. A. Mosier, of Des Moines, Iowa; Mrs. E. B. Trowbridge, of Bishop; Mrs. Ida Burge, of Riverside; Mrs. F. McNutt, Mrs. E. D. Trowbridge and Miss Etta Supple, of Glendale, and Mrs. Charles Kegley of Los Angeles.

This affair was in the nature of a reunion, as all these women are old Des Moines friends.

Regular Meeting

One of the real pleasures anticipated by Tuesday Afternoon club women at each of their regular meetings is the hour of community singing led by Hugo Kirchhofer. New song books have been provided for purchase by the club members and they will be used at the meeting next Tuesday.

Mrs. Kirchhofer has found some splendid material to work with in the club and the hour of singing is of interest whether one is able to participate or not.

There will be two other complementary events at the meeting Tuesday. A cooked food sale to augment the club's building fund, and a meeting at 1 o'clock of all club women not included in the activities of any of the sections.

Mrs. Montgomery of the ways and means committee, has called this meeting to organize the non-section members in activity in the interests of the building fund.

Receives Board

Mrs. Pierson Hanning was hostess Wednesday afternoon at her home at 235 North Orange avenue at a board meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of the Wilson Avenue Intermediate school.

Mr. R. C. Horner, president, was in charge of the meeting and announced that at the regular meeting Monday afternoon, January 22, the mothers of the Eighth A grade pupils will be special guests. Mrs. George U. Moyses of the Glendale Union High school will be the special speaker.

The association is to hold "Fathers' Night" February 12, when there will be an informal reception for the parents of the entering Seventh-B class.

For the coming Federation bazaar, the school is to have part in a cake contest and Mrs. Hanning was named chairman of the committee to arrange for this.

She will be assisted by Mesdames Torrey, Eckert, Ambrosch, King and Horner.

A request came from the Eighth-A grade teachers for support from the P-T. A. on the class gift to the school.

From Far Parts

The cosmopolitan nature of Glendale gatherings was illustrated at the meeting last week of the Glen Eyrie Chapter, Eastern Star, when the following visitors named their places of membership:

Choir Has Dinner

Members of St. Mark's Episcopal church choir enjoyed a dinner and business and social session last night in the Guild hall. There were forty persons present at the 6:30 o'clock dinner arranged and served by a committee with Mrs. B. O. Holbrook as chairman.

Mrs. Helen I. Campbell, retiring president, presided over the business session, during which Albert Sullivan was elected president; Miss Louise Ayala, first vice-president and secretary; Mrs. Charles H. Meadows, second vice-president, and Mrs. C. L. Hill, third vice-president.

Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector, was present, and responded briefly to an invitation to speak.

Girls Enjoy Meet

"Business and College Girls' Night" was enjoyed last night by sixty-five girls at the meeting of the Christian Circle club at the Christian church. All club members interested have been invited to attend.

M. E. Brotherhood

The regular meeting of the Brotherhood of the First Methodist church is to take place to night, beginning with a banquet at 6:30 o'clock. Following the dinner there will be addresses by Rev. J. C. Livingston, pastor of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church, and O. D. Conrey, assistant superintendent of the Union Mission in Los Angeles.

Big Salvage Sale

At the meeting of the Broad-way school Parent-Teacher association yesterday at the school it was decided that the organization would hold a big salvage sale. They are going to enlist the children of the grades to collect all the salvage possible and it will be sold for the benefit of the general fund.

It was also decided that a series of card parties will be held, Mrs. C. Bowls of 321 North Adams street being the first hostess, Friday afternoon, January 31. Five Hundred will be played and

PUPILS PRESENT

VARIED PROGRAM

Fathers' Night Is Planned
For February 15 at P-T. A. Meeting

The Colorado street Parent-Teachers' association is indebted to the students of the Glendale Union High school for the splendid program presented yesterday afternoon at the school house. The attendance was very satisfactory, stated Mrs. C. H. Thompson, president.

Thomas Wood, Jr., rendered a violin solo, "Romance," by Svenson. Miss Shirley Fewkey presented a piano number by Macdowell. Jane Hurlbert gave a reading, entitled "Marionette." The girls' glee club sang a group of songs, among them "Husliken" and "The Owl and the Pussy Cat."

This program was preceded by a brief business meeting, at which a Fathers' night for February 15 was planned. The program on this night will be patriotic in character, put on by the children and the parents, in collaboration.

Discuss Bond Project

The Community Service movement was briefly discussed, as was the school bond project. In this latter connection Richardson D. White, city superintendent of schools, spoke a few words.

The Parent-Teacher Federation bazaar was announced for February 23. A committee of three was appointed to see about making or procuring rag rugs for the kindergarten.

The above program was then given, after which those present adjourned to the school cafeteria, where they were served tea and wafers by Mrs. McBoyle, hospitality chairman.

A social half-hour followed.

Casa Verdugo Women Will Sell Dainties

A cooked food sale will be held all day Saturday, January 20, by the women of the Aid society of the Casa Verdugo Methodist Episcopal church. In the rooms of the Jewel City Plumbing company, 526 East Broadway, announces Mrs. J. W. Cotton, president.

Cakes, pies, salads, baked beans and many other varieties of prepared home-made foods will be sold, and there will be a luncheon served at noon.

All members and friends may attend.

The feature of the program was an informal talk by Mrs. Charles H. Toll on "Character Building." Her talk was based on eight letters she had received from people in various walks of life in reply to a note from her asking what they considered the secret to success in their own lives.

Mrs. Toll also spoke on community service.

Other entertainment numbers were a colonial dance by Ethel and Harold Barheit in costume; a violin duet by the daughter and son of Mrs. G. H. Gates; saxophone solo by Adeline Woodbury; and a short talk on chaperonage by Mrs. Hartley Shaw.

Hear Mrs. Cotton

One of the pleasurable features of the Pacific avenue school Parent-Teacher association meeting yesterday afternoon was a small exhibit of etchings by John W. Cotton and a brief explanatory talk by Mrs. Cotton. Mrs. Cotton gave the story of the art of etching, and the Central avenue school Parent-Teacher meeting and the Pacific avenue women were greatly gratified over her consent to come and address them.

At the meeting yesterday Harry James, monologist, entertained, and there were short talks by Don Ogden on community service, and by Richard C. White on community service, and upon the bond mass meeting last night.

Other events of the program were salute to the flag and singing of America, led by Mrs. Harry McMullin; announcement by Mrs. Harry Bogen that the Pacific avenue P-T. A. is to have a booth at the federation bazaar; the room count and awarding of pictures to Mrs. Longley's first grade and Miss Circle's fifth grade; and two piano numbers, "Skating" and "Grandma's Music Box" by Robert Moore of the fourth grade.

During the business hour Miss Landerdale of the kindergarten made a request for needed materials in her department.

Late in the afternoon tea was served in the school court.

NET CLOSING ON DANCER'S SLAYER

Identification of Dead Girl's Companion Is Predicted By San Diego Police

custody. The left Los Angeles at midnight and made the trip by automobile. After allowing Clarke time for breakfast, Sergeant Peterson immediately took him into his private office to question him.

Several discrepancies have already been found in the story told by police officers when he was taken into custody in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon.

Alibi Shattered
The first was a flat denial from Al Flowers, candidate for election as city councillor in San Diego, that Clark had spent the entire evening Sunday at his San Diego home. Flowers said Clark had not been near his home.

In his first statement Clark said he had been at the Flowers home from 8:15 Sunday night until 12:30 or 1 o'clock.

It now develops from testimony of San Diego witnesses that Clark took dinner that night with Miss Helen Flowers at the Hotel Maryland, a fact which he did not mention during his initial talk.

A strange part of the incident is that Miss Flowers, who was mentioned by Detective Richard Chadwick, denied she had dined at the Hotel Maryland with Clark and said that the dinner took place at a nearby cafe. Miss Flowers is scheduled for a second grilling today after Chief Patrick finishes questioning Clark.

Trace Phone Calls
Clark, in his statement to the Los Angeles police, was firm in reiterating that he was at the Flowers home from 8:15 until after midnight. Investigation at the Hotel Maryland showed that he was at the hotel until ten minutes to nine on the night in question.

Perusal of the telephone slips at the hotel reveals that at 7:50 p. m. Sunday night Clark telephoned Hillcrest 946, which is the Flowers home, and apparently conversed with Miss Flowers for a short while. Later she joined him. At the same time he telephoned Main 315, which is the Bronx hotel, but it is not known to what guest he talked.

Lame Soldier Weds
One-Legged Bride

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The unusual sight of a one-legged groom leading a one-legged bride to the altar was a feature of a recent wedding at Eltham, a London suburb.

The groom was Robert Payne, a former soldier, who lost a leg at Ypres in 1917. The bride was Miss Alice Smith, a pretty girl who lost one leg through an accident when she was 14.

Payne hobbled to the altar on crutches, while Miss Smith's infirmity, due to the wearing of an artificial leg, was scarcely noticeable.

Awards Litigants
Over Cow $1 Each

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, Jan. 19.—A Solomon-like verdict was rendered here by a jury in a suit for damages. The litigation arose from a fight over a cow. Each litigant was awarded $1 as damages.

Antonio Markovich had a cow. It strayed onto the property of a neighbor, Newton Crossley, at Blaine. Crossley penned up his bovine visitor. A battle with Markovich resulted. Both men were badly used up, according to testimony. Markovich sued for damages. The jury deliberated over the case two hours.

Preachers' Careers Strangely Similar

FORT WORTH, Tex., Jan. 19.—G. W. Young and George D. Johnson both came to Fort Worth from Iowa. Both were later chancellors of the Knights of Pythias. Both were deacons of the Broadway Presbyterian church.

Both died on the same day, last Thursday, and funeral services were held for both at the same time.

The smallest baby at birth known weighed two pounds one ounce.

BALANCE LEFT IN FUND FOR FLOAT

Glendale Citizens Pay Tribute to L. W. Chobe's Genius in Designs

All clubs, organizations and individuals have now contributed their allotments to the Glendale Float fund, which made possible L. W. Chobe's creation of the peak that brought this city premier honors in the recent carnival at Pasadena, announces C. C. Cooper, treasurer of the fund. All bills, moreover, have been paid, so far as can be ascertained, and there still remains a balance in the treasury of $20.76.

A summary of the float situation follows:

Elks' Lodge	$ 50.00
Exchange Club	25.00
Kiwanis Club	25.00
East Side Improvement Association	25.00
Carpenters' Union	15.00
C. E. Van Dusen	10.00
City of Glendale	250.00
Masons	10.00
Realty Board	25.00
Knights of Columbus	25.00
American Legion	10.00
Chamber of Commerce	250.00
City of Glendale	125.00
Rotary Club	25.00
Credit Association	25.00
Mary E. Lindsey	1.00
A. M. Howes	1.00
Total amount received	$897.00
Total amount paid out	$876.24

Balance on hand... $ 20.76
This sum of $20.76 will be held until it is certain there are no other outstanding obligations against it, following which some disposition will be made of it, states Mr. Cooper.

Testimonial for Chobe
Reporting on the total of contributions received toward the L. W. Chobe fund, R. F. Kitterman, who has been acting as treasurer of this fund, states that this sum amounts to $284.50.

Following are the last six names on the list, which has been published in detail heretofore:

Tuesday Afternoon Club	$ 5.00

Glendale Realty Board	25.00
Huntley & Evans	10.00

A. M. Howes	1.00

Mr. Kitterman recommends that subscriptions to this fund now be closed and the total of $284.50 be turned over to Mr. Chobe, as a concrete testimony of Glendale's gratitude for his genius.

BRAKES WEAR TIRES
Always apply the brakes gently. When brakes are jammed hard, it puts a severe strain on the tires and may cause one wheel to lock and slide, wearing the tread at that point. Carefully judge your distance and momentum and stop by using brakes as little as possible.

Chinese Ask Data On Commission Plan

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 19.—A. W. D. Hall, special engineer in charge of the $600,000 municipal harbor improvements now under way in this city, who was formerly city manager of Jackson, Mich., has received a letter from H. C. Tung, of Wocung, Kiangsu, China, asking for information regarding the commission form of government as practiced in Tampa. The letter contains a large number of questions relative to organization, taxation, etc., which Hall will answer at once.

PLAN TO EXTEND YORK BOULEVARD

The extension of York boulevard running west from Highland Park, from its present termination to a point where Palmer and Adams streets intersect east of Glendale, was the subject of a meeting held by the Highland Park Improvement association last night, at which James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, was present and at which he spoke.

At present, said Mr. Rhoades, Glendale has only one traffic artery, Colorado boulevard, to take care of the travel to and from the east, and it is essential that another outlet be found. The extension of York boulevard, as suggested by the Highland Park association, from the point where it stops to the junction of Palmer and Adams, would mean the building of a mile or road over the hill at that point and would thus afford another main road for the east and west traffic that is increasing so steadily.

Asks Moral Support
As the proposed extension lies outside of the city of Glendale, this community could not assume any financial responsibility in the matter, declares Mr. Rhoades, but Highland Park earnestly desires the moral support of Glendale in its efforts to bring the project to a successful conclusion, and Mr. Rhoades assured the members of the association at the meeting last night that he believed Glendale would be heartily in favor of the plan.

A committee representing the Highland Park association will be in attendance at next Tuesday's meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce directors and will lay the matter before them in detail. City Manager William H. Reeves and City Engineer Ben F. Dupey will also be present at the luncheon to discuss the technical points involved, and it is expected that a definite policy will be adopted at that time.

Eliminate Noises
Borersome rattles may be quickly overcome by inserting pieces of rubber between the two vibrating or chafing surfaces. An old inner tube can be used for this purpose.

ASSEMBLY PLUMS DROP IN ALAMEDA

Northern Stalwarts Oppose Plan to Aid Southern University Branch

By GIL A. COWAN
Special to The Evening News
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19.—How come? Alameda county gets the larger share of the plum tree in the California legislature, including ye goodie friend Richardson, the governor. He hails from Berkeley, as does Lieut. Governor C. C. Young. Senator Arthur H. Breed, president pro tem of the senate, comes from Piedmont and Assemblyman Frank W. Anderson, president pro tem of the assembly, comes from Oakland. On the committees the Alamedans naturally shine.

Berkeley and its university being especially favored, there is little need to expect that Los Angeles will make many inroads with a program for the southern branch of the university, as proposed by Senator Charles W. Lyon. Senator Breed gave an expression on the subject which is enlightening, but not exciting, when he said he sees the day coming when Southern California will have a four-year state university.

"But the time is not yet," he is quoted by the Sacramento Bee, "if for no other reason, simply because of the financial considerations. The money is not available now."

It is a safe prediction the money will not be available until Los Angeles takes some of the powers from Alameda county's hands. The appointment of Senator T. C. West of Alameda to the chairmanship of universities and teachers' colleges is significant.

War On Landlords
Discrimination against children on the part of landlords is going to get a body blow in a bill being prepared for presentation by Assemblyman J. Croter of Oakland.

It is his opinion that many houses and apartments are being kept vacant, in the face of a housing shortage in this state, by those who have an antipathy to baby breaking its bottle on the hardwood floor.

Sonoma State Home
Two women legislators, members of the assembly, spent their week end at, if not in, San Quentin prison. Miss Eleanor Miller of Pasadena and Mrs. Anna L. Saylor of Berkeley were those who visited Warden Johnson's hotel for the hard-boiled.

Miss Miller is interested in the maintenance by the state of the Sonoma State Home for Women and will fight the measure to abolish what she considers a most humanitarian institution.

While at San Quentin she obtained much information regarding prison reform and will be ready to refute from the floor, arguments favoring sending women to the penal institution for moral turpitude.

Loses Realty Signs
Wonder if this story is really true? A woman real estate dealer in Southern California informs that Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser that the reason she has not had a shingle in front of her home indicating that she was a licensed broker is due to the fact that three signs hung to a palm tree in the yard have been stolen.

Perhaps the tourists mistook them for palm leaf fans! The commissioner advised her to chain the sign to the tree.

All Men After Right Mate, Says Expert

ELYRIA, Ohio, Jan. 19.—Many pathetic stories are related by the "lonely" in their correspondence addressed to Neil Brooks Stull, organizer of the Widows and Widowers' club here. This correspondence, Mrs. Stull said, discloses that many persons, of both sexes, are "just waiting for the right one to cross their pathway."

The club, which has 29 local members, with applications for membership on file from residents of many sections of the country, has been instrumental in members making new "acquaintances." These friendships in a number of instances, it is predicted, will result in marriages soon.

THEATRES

The Glendale

"The Sin Flood," the great Goldwyn spectacle at the Glendale Theatre today, contains several powerful flood scenes that were exceedingly difficult to obtain. In this unusual story, a mountain stream is seen to swell into a torrent, to overflow its banks, and to flood the valleys below. As the flood rises, the level mounts in the reservoir above the city of Cotonia, a Mississippi river town in which the story takes place. The result is that a heterogeneous group of eleven people find themselves marooned in a fashionable cafe near the stock exchange. Here, trapped in a flood-tight, air-tight barroom, in the face of what they believe to be certain death, they lay down their respective burdens of life and unfetter their souls. How they are saved makes one of the strongest and most ironical climaxes ever shown in a motion picture.

RICH GIRL HAPPY WITH CLERK

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Will.

Calvin Will, a 19-year-old Washington, D. C., clerk, and his bride of a month are back in their Capital home, after an elopement and arrest in Cincinnati, at the request of the irate millionaire father of Mrs. Will. The young couple are living with the groom's parents. She says she passed up a million for him, and he went to jail for her, so "they will live happy ever after."

STORE HAS HOME ECONOMICS DEPT. POLICE FIGURES FAVOR GLENDALE

Culinary Artist Is Engaged As Demonstrator for Food Laboratory

A home economics laboratory has been built and modernly equipped at the Coker & Taylor store at 209 South Brand boulevard as an annex to every kitchen in Glendale. With the completion of this domestic science room under the supervision of Mrs. H. S. Border, culinary artist and chef, the store has extended a cordial invitation to all Glendale women to make frequent visits to the laboratory and take part in the discussions and demonstrations.

For some time the Coker & Taylor people have held cooking demonstrations in the stove department under the direction of O. J. Merrill. So popular did these prove that more room was needed and Mr. Merrill developed the idea of the special room.

In this room perfect equipment has been installed and Mrs. Border or some other domestic science expert will be in constant attendance.

There culinary problems will be worked out and demonstrations given of the preparation of all types of food. A program of special days is to be planned by Mrs. Border and will be announced at a later date. In preparing the foods a stove equipped with a Lorain heat regulator will be used. This regulator Mr. Merrill calls "the lost ingredient in all recipes."

Says Vote of Woman Making No Change

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 19.—Advent of the woman voter has not changed political conditions, according to Professor Walter J. Shepard, department of political science, Ohio State university. "There is little or no perceptible difference evident so far in the character of the vote since the advent of the woman suffrage amendment," declared Professor Shepard. "Women do not vote differently from men, as they are subject to practically the same influences as are the men. They divide the issues along lines similar to the males," he continued. "Even on the liquor issue the expected did not happen. In Illinois, where it was possible to tabulate the women's vote, woman suffrage did not work to the advantage of the dry cause, at least to the extent that had been expected," said Professor Shepard.

Plan Los Angeles Home for Animals
A home for horses, dogs, cats and birds is being planned for Los Angeles, according to Mr. and Mrs. John S. Knox of 425 South Central avenue, who attended a recent meeting at the Ambassador hotel at which this was discussed. They stated that both Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bates Post of Pasadena and also Mrs. Rosamond Rae Wright, president of the Southern California Anti-Vivisection Society, are interested. The home is to be built largely by money willed by the widow of Edgar Salus of New York City.

The housefly becomes full grown within about four weeks after its birth.

The MUCKER

by Edgar Rice Burroughs

Copyright 1921 by Edgar Rice Burroughs

As Billy approached Pesita shot a quick glance at his face, that he might read, perhaps, in his new officer's expression whether anger or suspicion had been aroused by the killing of his American friend, for Pesita never dreamed but that Bridge had been dead since mid-forenoon.

"Well," said Pesita, smiling, "you left Senor Bridge and Miguel safely at their destination?"

"I couldn't take 'em all the way," replied Billy, "because I didn't have no more men to guard 'em with; but I seen 'em past the danger I guess an' well on their way."

"You had no men?" questioned Pesita. "You had six troopers."

"Oh, they was all croaked before we'd been gone two hours. You see it happens like this: We got as far as that dry arroyo just before the trail drops down into the valley, when up jumps a bunch of this here Villa's guys an' commenced takin' pot shots at us."

"Seen" as how I was sent to guard Bridge an' Mig. I makes them dismount and hunt cover, and then me an' my men wades in and cleans up the bunch. They was only a few of them but they croaked the whole bloomin' six o' mine."

"I tell you it was some scrap while it lasted; but I saved my guests from gettin' hurted an' I know that that's what you sent me to do. It's too bad about the six men we lost but, leave it to me, we'll get even with that Villa guy yet. Just lead me to 'im."

As he spoke Billy commenced scratching himself beneath the left arm, and then, as though to better reach the point of irritation he slipped his hand inside his shirt. If Pesita noticed the apparently innocent little act, or interpreted it correctly may or may not have been the fact. He stood looking straight into Billy's eyes for a full minute. His face denoted neither baffled rage nor contemplated revenge. Presently a slow smile raised his heavy mustache and revealed his strong, white teeth.

"You have done well, Captain Byrne," he said. "You are a man after my own heart," and he extended his hand.

A half-hour later Billy walked slowly back to his own blankets, and to say that he was puzzled would scarce have described his mental state.

"I can't quite make that gink out," he mused. "Either he's a mighty good loser or else he's a deep one who'll wait a year to get me the way he wants to get me." And Pesita a few moments later was saying to Captain Rozales:

"I should have shot him if I could spare such a man; but it is seldom I find one with the courage and offhandness he possesses. Why think of it, Rozales, he kills eight of my men, and lets my prisoners escape, and then dares to come back and tell me about it when he might easily have gotten away. Villa would have made him an officer for this thing, and Miguel must have told him so. He found out in some way about your little plan and he turned the tables on us. We can use him, Rozales, but we must watch him. Also, my dear captain, watch his right hand when he slips it into his shirt be careful that you do not draw upon him—unless you happen to be behind him."

Rozales was not inclined to take his chief's view of Byrne's value to them. He argued that the man was guilty of disloyalty and was therefore a menace. What he thought, but did not advance as an argument, was of a different nature. Rozales was filled with rage to think that the newcomer had outwitted him, and beaten him at his own game, and he was jealous too, of the man's ascendancy in the esteem of Pesita; but he

Colonel T. E. Lawrence, C. B., D. S. This romantic figure—student, archaeologist, linguist, diplomat and soldier—has been serving for the past four months as a humble British Tommy, both to get freedom and for writing and to get new material. His original manuscript was stolen from him three years ago.

Daily NewsLetter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad.

TODAY—Karl M. Elsh, Berlin, writes of the criminal tendency in German capital.

TOMORROW—Chicago "coops" to be taught rules of "African golf," writes John D. Mueller, Chicago.

By KARL M. ELISH
For International News Service
BERLIN, Jan. 19.—"What will you have for Christmas?" said an American woman in Berlin to a newly arrived male friend. "A revolver, blackjack or a nice set of brass knuckles?"

"Why, what, what—?" stammered the newcomer, completely flabbergasted by such a question. "I don't get you."

"But don't you know," came the impatient reply, "that here in Berlin you have got to carry some kind of defensive weapon? Everybody does."

The word "armistice" in German is translated as "Waffenstillstand," which means, literally, "standstill of weapons." Well, the armistice that made German weapons "stand still," insofar as the allies were concerned, became effective five years ago, but as regards Berlin the weapons still march merrily on.

The ease with which lethal weapons can be purchased is positively shocking to the newcomer. Anything from a revolver to a blackjack can be purchased at the best sporting goods stores.

Blackjacks, brass knuckles, slung knives, sword canes and numerous other ingenious devices for clubbing a man senseless with revolvers for popularity.

The most ingenious and interesting of them all is the "Gummikneppel"—a rubber club between six and eight inches long and perhaps an inch thick—which is affected particularly by the younger set. It is a lethal instrument, not quite so deadly perhaps as the blackjack, but in the hands of a strong and determined man is "deadly" enough.

This confection is put up in various forms to suit the individual taste. The anti-Semitic students carry "Gummikneppel" with anti-Semitic Swastika, called "Hakenkreuz," here, printed thereon. The dandy, going to call on his girl in a lonely part of town, carries his "kneppel" in a cane; if attacked he simply pulls the "kneppel" out of the cane and lays about him.

Crime is rampant. Sneak thievery, robbery, murder—usually in connection with robbery—are the order of the day. Every pedestrian in the dark streets of the residential districts is a potential footpad.

It's no wonder the nervous Berliner doesn't consider himself fully dressed unless he has with him a bludgeon of some sort.

Yet outwardly, the town is quiet and peaceful. It reminds one of a quiet sector of the French front in the winter of 1917-1918. Everything is quiet, but you never can tell when the trouble will start.

Even more disconcerting to the police than the publicity given hotel thefts is the fact that a sneak thief seems to be at large in the Treptow police barracks. Despite the closest watch at the entrance to the building, all sorts of articles, ranging from water canisters to wheelbarrows, have been disappearing.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE FROZEN BEE

After the cold spell in Woodland, where Uncle Wiggily lived, and after the birds had flown in his hollow stump bungalow to warm the bunny rabbit gentleman, Jack Frost took a little vacation. That means it wasn't so cold. The sun shone warm and a honey bee, who had gone to sleep in a hollow tree, with other bees, feeling the warm sunshine, awoke, stirred his wings and buzzed:

"It must be spring! I am going out and gather honey from the flowers, for they must be in blossom now!"

"Nonsense! Don't be silly!" hummed the Queen Bee, who had partly awakened with the others. "This is but the January Thaw, little bee. It will be cold and freeze again, in a few days."

"Oh, I don't believe so," buzzed the other bee, who was one of the workers in the summer hive. "I am going out and gather honey from the flower blossoms."

And no matter what the others said, out he flew from the hollow tree, down inside of which was a warm bees' nest.

Well, the sun was shining bright and warm outside. But, for all that, there was snow on the ground and a chilling wind blew. The little bee flew about, looking here and there for flowers, but none could he see, of course.

Then, as the sun went down, the air grew cold and chill, and when night came Jack Frost hurried back from his vacation at the North Pole and blew his cold breath over everything.

"Oh, the Queen Bee was right—summer has not yet come," thought the little buzzer. "I must fly back to the warm trees!"

But alas! He could not find his way. And as he flew here and there the chill air made his wings heavy so that soon their buzzing stopped.

"Oh, dear! Oh—dear! Oh—dear! Oh—dear!" sighed the cold bee, and then unable to fly farther, he curled up in a little ball and fell on the woodland path.

"I am quite frozen!" he murmured. "Quite frozen! This is the end of me."

About this time Uncle Wiggily hopped along. He had been over to Grandpa Goosey Gander's house playing Scotch checkers and was now on his way home to eat the warm supper Nurse Jane Fuzzy would have ready.

As Uncle Wiggily passed the place where the frozen bee had fallen, the bunny heard a faint buzzing of cold wings. Looking down, Mr. Longears saw the bee in the twilight and said:

"Poor little buzzer! He must have thought this was the first day of spring, because it was a bit warm, and he came out of his hollow tree hive. Well, he is still alive. I'll take him home to my warm kitchen. Nurse Jane has a few flowers there, and maybe he can live on them until spring really comes."

So Uncle Wiggily put the frozen bee in his warm fur coat pocket and hopped on to his bungalow. When almost there, all of a sudden, the Bob Cat leaped out of the bushes, crying:

"I must have ears! I just must have ears!"

"And I must have a sting! I must have a sting!" buzzed the bee, who was now warm again and quite lively. "I'll sting you and you can't have Uncle Wiggily's ears!" hummed the bee.

Flying out of the bunny's warm pocket, the bee stung the Bob Cat on his soft and tender nose.

"Wouchie! Wouchie!" howled the bad chap, and then he ran away to find some snow in which to cool his burning, stinging nose.

"Thank you, Mr. Bee, you saved my ears!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "But you had better get back in my warm pocket again." And the bee did, being no longer frozen. Uncle Wiggily took the honey buzzer home and he lived on Nurse Jane's bungalow flowers until spring really came.

More than two-tenths would be permissible.

The earlier transmitter, known as the "plain aerial," could not emit such a wave and propagated a wave very broad in its characteristics. It was a good radiating system, but the waves emitted were of such high decrement that they could not be readily tuned out in receiving apparatus when it is undesirable to receive them. This type would emit a wave with what is known as several "humps," and it would be heard in a receiver on a number of different wave lengths thus causing much jamming or interference. Its only advantages besides simplicity are its effectiveness in cases where the sending operator wants all possible stations to hear him, as, for instance, when a ship needs help, or in war time, when it is desired to drown out the enemy's signals.

PICTURE EXHIBIT

OPEN TO PUBLIC

Display Is Preliminary to Establishing Art Colony At La Ramada Park

Glendale is to have an art colony, and picturesque La Ramada park on North Brand boulevard is to be the location if plans now under way by a group of Glendale people are carried out. With this idea for an inspiration an art exhibit is to be held at La Ramada from 2 till 5 o'clock next Sunday afternoon, when all Glendaleans interested are invited to attend. The announcement is made by Mrs. D. P. Reichard, Blanche L. Ballagh and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swartz.

It is their idea to preserve La Ramada park, said to have been laid out 140 years ago by a member of the Verdugo family, and also to establish a Glendale Art club. This will mean that there will be located at La Ramada a permanent art exhibit for artists, art lovers and Glendale school children.

Spanish Pictures

At the affair Sunday afternoon the owner of the Glendale Gallery in Los Angeles will be present and speak on an exhibit of Spanish pictures. Ralph Pearson, Harold Swartz and John W. Cotton will also be among the artists present. Mr. Pearson and Mr. Cotton will exhibit etchings and Mr. Swartz sculpture.

Old Prayer Book

Owned by Ohioan

DEFIANCE, Ohio, Jan. 18.—As a result of the controversy stirred up here by the announcement of Dr. R. B. Cameron that he has an old Scotch prayer book 263 years old, many local citizens have come forward with old volumes published more than two centuries ago.

The record is held by the Defiance College library, which contains a number of old volumes, including a well preserved copy of Selater's "Exposition of Thessalonians," printed 295 years ago.

THREE-COIL MOUNTING AND VARIABLE CONDENSER UNIT

"Most coil mountings are single units and require a separate condenser. The illustrated mounting is a departure from this custom and provides a self-contained mounting and condenser.

The coil mounting is standard and permits the use of all standard coils. The condenser is of sufficient capacity to cover the entire wave length range usually employed in experimental work. The unit provides a very flexible combination which will meet a long felt demand.

RADIO TELEGRAPH TRANSMITTERS

Having discussed the most important units of a transmitter, we can now turn our attention to a complete radio telegraph transmitter. As explained in the preceding articles, it is not intended that the earlier types mentioned in the historical portion of these series be discussed. Although they form the simplest type of transmission and are economical in design and easy for a beginner to construct, their use is forbidden in the United States for the following reasons: In 1912 certain laws and regulations were adopted by Congress to control radio telegraphic communication. A regulation which definitely fixed the type of transmitter that should be used was one stipulating that a pure wave should be emitted and that no equipment with a decrement value greater

SEE COMPROMISE ON RE-DIVISION

Committee's Bill Is Expected To Increase South's Vote In State Assembly

By GIL A. COWAN
Special to The Evening News

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19.—With the naming of a committee in the lower house of the state legislature favorable to reapportionment Southern California's hopes in this regard became "bullish" today and some sort of a re-division of the legislative districts is confidently predicted by those in touch with the situation.

It is not probable, however, that it will be based on the 1920 census, as a compromise must be effected to keep San Francisco and the Bay district from losing too heavily. At the same time, it is expected that the committee will report out a bill increasing the vote of the south, making as little change as possible in the northern districts which, in some instances, cover three or four counties.

The result will probably be two additional senators and four assemblymen to come from south of the Tehachapi. All of which means that Southern California also will get two additional representatives in congress when federal reapportionment is effected.

Favor Compromise

Assemblywoman Eleanor Miller and Senator Burlingame Johnson, both of Pasadena, are members of the reapportionment committee in their respective houses, and they are confident that there are majorities favorable to reporting out some sort of a compromise. The president and president pro tem of the senate and the speaker of the assembly are all in favor of some sort of a measure, it is said, and the governor will not care to have his "summer capital" at Long Beach if he doesn't give the south what's due. Indeed, they will make it "warm" for him, not to say that it isn't hot at Long Beach, anyway.

Weller Heads Committee

Several new members of the assembly from the south were favored with committee chairmanships. Frank Weller of Glendale heads the military affairs group; Miss Miller of Pasadena is chairman of public morals; Charles B. Dawson of Huntington Park has contingent expenses to look after, and Hugh Pomeroy will be the leading light on elections.

Chester M. Kline of San Jacinto, serving his fourth term, heads the ways and means committee. His newspaper actively supported Richardson's campaign program of efficiency and economy.

Explains Gasoline Tax

In a personal interview with Senator A. Burlingame Johnson regarding the new motor vehicle legislation he introduced in the senate this week, he pointed out the feature of the gasoline tax bill as "placing the burden on the fellow who uses the roads most."

"Heavy trucks, which get only three or four miles per gallon, will pay proportionately more than the lighter car making twenty miles and paying the same tax of one cent per gallon. This proposal meets with favor although some urged me to make the tax two cents a gallon."

"The revenue gained thereby will be divided so that 25 per cent goes to the municipalities for upkeep of through highways and the other 75 per cent goes to the maintenance of state and county highways. Population will be used as a basis for apportionment of the money."

"The $2 license fee for all gasoline propelled vehicles will pay the tags and administration of the state motor vehicle department and I am assured that it is more than sufficient."

According to the senator, City Manager C. W. Koiner of Pasadena was among many who aided him in promulgating such a satisfactory gasoline tax bill.

Down to Hard Work
With committees already functioning, never in the remembrance of the oldest members has the California legislature settled down so rapidly to real business on a program that is bound to rebound to the credit of all. So far there is an absence of measures seeking large appropriations and the "pork barrel" is noticeably missing, according to Speaker Frank F. Merriam of the assembly.

Three score bills in the assembly and half the number in the senate augur well for the enactment of fewer and better laws this term.

Senator Commutes
Speaking of "oldest members" calls attention to Senator Benjamin F. Rush of Suisun, who has held his seat since 1905 and is the dean of the legislators. Perhaps it is because he lives close by and is able to commute home for dinner and breakfast that he stays on the job.

Certainly, if he had to eat, sleep, live and try to enjoy himself in Sacramento he would have tired of the lawmaking long ago.

PREDICTS VICTORY

SHANGHAI, Jan. 19.—Fall of the northern militarists and triumph of constitutional government in China was predicted today by Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who is again in control of Canton, his former capital.

"The spirit of self-determination among Chinese is most important if China will enjoy administrative and territorial autonomy," he said today.

REALTY MEETING CITY IS CHOSEN

California Cities Plan to Send Delegates to Convention At State Capital

The nineteenth annual convention of the California Real Estate association will be held at Sacramento, the "Heart of California," October 10, 11, 12 and 13, 1923, according to announcement today by the California Real Estate association news department. Notice of the setting of the annual dates was received today by State President Frazier O. Reed from President Will C. Wright of the Sacramento Realtors' association. Already in many boards throughout the state are laying their plans to attend this convention, and to try again to win the Fred E. Reed Home Town talk trophy.

The convention will open with the president's grand ball on Wednesday evening, October 10th, and the following two days will be largely devoted to the business of the association.

It is probable that all of Saturday and Sunday will be given over to the visiting points of interest and farming sections in Sacramento and the Sacramento valley.

Many Delegates Coming
Motor caravans laden with realtors will come from many points: Long Beach, Santa Ana, San Diego, Riverside, Pasadena, San Bernardino, Fresno, San Jose, Oakland, San Francisco, Modesto, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, Stockton, and also northern Sacramento valley towns, will arrive in great force at this convention. It is believed that between 500 and 750 delegates will be present, and that the program will be of tremendous interest and value to the development of the interior agricultural areas of California.

E. J. Morrissey, vice-president of the Sacramento Realtors' association, has been appointed by President Wright to be general convention chairman. He will have the naming of his committee chairman and they will get immediately to work.

At the same time the California Association of Realtor Secretaries will be in session at Sacramento. It is believed many of the delegates will plan to make the trip to Lake Tahoe, Yosemite valley and other points.

Shortage of Homes
America is short about one million homes according to Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce. In making this estimate in connection with the "Better Homes in America" campaign, Mr. Hoover said:

"In cities, such a shortage implies the challenge of congestion. It means that in practically every American city of more than 200,000 from 20 to 30 per cent of the population is adversely affected, and that thousands of families are forced into unsanitary and dangerous quarters. This condition, in turn, means a large increase in rents, a throw-back in human efficiency and that unrest which invariably results from inhibition of the primal instinct in all of us from home-ownership. It makes for nomads and vagrants."

It is estimated that $7,000,000,000 will be spent in new building construction in the United States during 1923. According to President Frazier O. Reed, of the California Real Estate association, more than $375,000,000 to $400,000,000 of this immense national building outlay will be expended in new California buildings and homes during the present year. One dollar out of every twenty spent by a nation of 150,000,000 people, will be spent in California, President Reed predicted. In 1922 California cities and towns expended about $300,000,000 in new buildings and homes.

TAX COLLECTOR EXPLAINS FORMS

Last Day for Filing Income Returns Is Fixed by Government at March 15

Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell is mailing to 190,000 taxpayers in the Southern California district who made similar returns for the year 1921, Form 1040-A, for filing individual income returns of $5,000 or less for the year 1922, and in a statement made yesterday he outlined to taxpayers the proper way to make returns, pointing out various changes in the income tax laws. The filing period is from January 1 to March 15, 1923.

Taxpayers are advised by Collector Goodcell to study carefully the instructions on the forms, especially those with regard to credits for personal exemptions and dependents. Married persons required to make a return on Form 1040-A—those whose net income was $5,000 or less—are allowed an exemption of $2,500.

Exemptions Allowed
The exemption for married persons whose net income was in excess of $5,000 is $2,000. The exemption for single persons is $1,000. Also, whether married or single, the taxpayer is allowed a credit of $400 for each person dependent upon him for chief support, if such person is under eighteen years of age or incapable of self-support because of being mentally or physically defective.

Collector Goodcell said it should be remembered that the requirement to file a return is placed upon every married person whose net income for 1922 was $2,000 or more or whose gross income was $5,000 or more, and upon every single person whose net income was $1,000 or more, or whose gross income was $5,000 or more. The fact that by reason of the exemptions and credits, a person's income is not taxable, does not nullify the requirement to file a return if the income equals or exceeds these specified amounts.

Define Single Person

A head of a family—"a person who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage or by adoption" is allowed the same exemptions as a married person. In the returns of married persons must be included the net income of both husband and wife and dependent children. Husband and wife may make a joint return or separate returns. They receive but one personal exemption, $2,500 or $2,000 as the case may be. If they make separate returns the exemption may be taken by either or divided between them. The exemption of $400 for a dependent may be claimed only by the one who furnishes the dependent's chief support.

The taxpayer's status on the last day of the taxable year—December 31, 1922, if made on the calendar year basis—determines the amount of his exemptions and credits. If married and living with wife or husband on that day the exemption is $2,500 or $2,000, according to the amount of net income. If single and without dependents on that day he may claim but $1,000 as his exemption, even though he may have been married or the head of a family during the greater part of the year. Widowers, widows, divorcees and persons separated by mutual consent are classed as single persons.

POSTAL HOLIDAY PLAN IN EFFECT

Postmaster Jackson States Many People in Favor of Saturday Project

Approval of the plan adopted by the Glendale postoffice by which the office grants a number of its employees a half holiday every Saturday, is shown in a large number of letters that have reached the desk of Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson since the new system was first proposed, he says.

In addition to the letters that have been received boosting the plan, Postmaster Jackson has been warmly commended by many of the city's leading business men and by private individuals for his endeavor to systematize the work of his office on such a basis that the employees of the office may have a certain amount of leisure to themselves each week.

Proves Practical
The half holiday went into effect for the first time last Saturday, January 13, and the results have demonstrated that it is entirely practicable to allow a certain proportion of the force a half day each week without impairing the efficiency of the office.

A force sufficient to attend to the demands of the public is retained on duty each Saturday, and the public has shown its readiness to fall in with the proposal of Postmaster Jackson to transact its business as early as possible on Saturday. In order that the members of the staff may be allowed to enjoy their half holidays, he states.

CLUB CONSIDERS STREET OPENING

Car Tracks and Billboards Up for Discussion at Boulevard Meeting

Bert Woodard, Philip Parker and Charles B. Guthrie are serving as members of a committee representing the Brand boulevard association to confer with property owners and members of the City Council on the project of opening Burnett street west to San Fernando road and east to Verdugo road. They received this commission Wednesday night at the meeting of the association directed by Mattison B. Jones, president.

Another committee appointed at the meeting included Dr. Parker, Mattison B. Jones and Julius Kranz to investigate and support the project of lowering the Pacific Electric tracks from California avenue north on Brand boulevard to the city limits.

The association discussed lowering tracks on Brand boulevard a year ago and at that time went on record as favoring carrying this out by sections. They first recommended that the track from Colorado street to Windsor road be lowered and that work is being carried on now. The next section to be lowered was in the north, namely, that described and discussed at the meeting Wednesday night. When this is completed they state that they favor lowering another southern section and after that another in the north.

Opposes Billboards
Upon a request from the federated civics committee that the association name a representative to serve on the committee Prof. W. R. Chandler was chosen.

After a brief talk by Hal Davenport in opposition to the placing of bill boards on either Broadway or Brand boulevard, a committee was named to include Hal Davenport, J. W. Lawson and S. Berman to promote further opposition.

Another matter of importance considered was the taxation for lighting streets and it was the unanimous opinion that finances for the installation of street light holders should come from assessment of property owners on the street, but that the maintenance of the lights should be by general taxation.

Charles B. Guthrie, secretary of the association, states that he is anxious to have all Brand boulevard property owners and all Glendaleans interested in the development of the boulevard enrolled as members and asks that all interested communicate with him.

SELL TICKETS TO BENEFIT DINNER

Exchange Club, Kiwanis and Rotarians in Drive to Aid Community Service

Glendale Community Service enthusiasts are busily engaged selling tickets for the big benefit dinner they are planning for Monday night, January 29, according to George Karr, who represents the Rotary club on the committee for the dinner.

Dr. C. L. Marlenee, of the Exchange club, and Lyman P. Clark, of the Kiwanis club, are also members of the committee and they and Mr. Karr are being assisted by committees of the three clubs. The dinner is being given to raise the $3000 to meet the expenses for the Community Service for the year. The dinner tickets are being sold for $25 a plate and can be paid for in cash, semi-annually or quarterly.

Mr. Karr announces that any Glendaleans interested in the dinner can communicate with him or Dr. Marlenee or Mr. Clark.

Sickness Cripples Postoffice Force

The aftermath of the Christmas rush is making itself felt among the staff at the Glendale postoffice, six members of the force being confined to their homes today by sickness. Three clerks, Mrs. Hattie B. Ellis, Miss C. N. Tyner and Henry H. Dreyer, and three carriers, Oscar W. Wright, Wm. M. Standley and Fred E. Blodgett, are off duty, but their condition is not regarded as serious and it is expected that they will be able to resume their duties at the first of the week.

The absence of six members of the staff, however, throws an extra amount of work on the remaining members, and may result in slowing up the work of the office to a certain extent. This, it is hoped, will entail as little inconvenience as possible on the public, and every effort is being made to maintain the service at the customary standard of efficiency.

Firm Gets Contract First Day in Town

The first day on which Murray Brothers, contractors, formerly of Peoria, Ill., arrived in Glendale they landed a contract for the building of a $3500 residence and the work on the house is now well under way.

As soon as the building had progressed above the foundations the contractors displayed on it their card of membership in the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Colorado River Compact Building Materials Up Big Power in Silence Legislation on K. K. K.

—By Gil A. Cowan—

EARLY ratification of the Colorado River Compact by the California legislature, as well as similar bodies in other states affected, not only is highly desirable, but essential to the greatest development of the southwest during the balance of this momentous century.

While there may be some minor details as yet not clear in the minds of all, the compact itself, after careful study, reveals no seeming inconsistency and is one of the most fair documents ever agreed to by representatives of different units of government.

Arizona and Nevada now are both looking to the action taken by California as a guide to their course and soon all the other interested parties will fall in line behind the leader of progress and development, the Bear state.

No private interests should be permitted to block the compact or the construction of Boulder Canyon dam, which is the second step in the conservation and development of the Colorado's waters.

Just as predicted, the prices of building materials have advanced slightly with the new year. Yes, indeed, you are now paying more for the privilege of procrastination. However, it is probable you will pay more for the High Cost of Living is jumping in foreign countries and that means it is going up in America very shortly.

From a standpoint of economies, now is the time to buy securities, real estate or staple commodities that will stand an increase without burdening the market. Also, it is a time to build and take the profit off those who do not have the foresight.

The building of substantial homes is one of the most profitable and useful enterprises in which man can engage. There are dozens of successful builders right here in Glendale, whom the writer could name, who have acquired comfortable fortunes by their service in sheltering humanity.

At a Rotary club meeting recently a realtor advised his fellow members to buy the largest lot possible for a home. The increase in the land value more than offsets the deterioration of the house. Something to that.

In silence there is power. At Sacramento the assemblyman who has never been known to make a motion, second a motion, or even address his fellow servants in public, wields the "big stick" among the San Francisco labor delegation.

And he usually gets what he goes after without saying a word, except privately which goes to show there is always a power behind the throne, greater than the throne itself.

The executive who seldom speaks holds the respect of his employees, while at the same time he can use an underling to good advantage as a personal mouthpiece.

It is not what a person says that counts half as much as that which he adroitly leaves unsaid. The most forceful criticism may be effected by ignoring the subject entirely.

Truly, silence is golden, but like gold, hard to acquire!

Legislation designed to outlaw the Ku Klux Klan and similar organizations is being considered in several states, including California. In this regard it would seem that the national congress is overlooking an opportunity to settle the question for once and for all whether this nation is to be a "government by the people" or a "government by a FEW of the people."

It has been clearly revealed that the "Klan" (not meaning the Atlanta organization alone), has set itself up as the government by a few in many communities, all of which is contrary to the constitution of the United States of America.

Great relief may be expressed at the settlement of the Southern

OUTLINES PLANS FOR STOCK SALES

Comptroller Peat Tells Gas Co. Employees Benefits of Mutual Ownership

A meeting of the employees of the Glendale district of the Southern California Gas Company recently was addressed by Comptroller A. E. Peat, who explained the company's plan for offering its six percent cumulative preferred stock to the public, and at the same time gave some interesting facts relative to the company's history and growth.

Upon being interviewed following the meeting, Mr. Peat said: "Many of the employees announced their intention of purchasing some of the stock themselves and pledged their wholehearted support to the company in helping to make the offering a big success."

"Although this is the first time that stock of the Southern California Gas company has been offered for public subscription in southern California, the bonds of the company are very popular with the investing public. There are over 4000 individual bondholders of whom more than 3400 live in the state of California and more than two-thirds of these people live in southern California. Ninety-five and one-half per cent of all of the bonds sold since March, 1921, were sold in the state of California. Average individual bondholdings are $2350. The part played by the small investor will be seen when it is stated that there are 1300 $500 bonds outstanding."

Mr. Peat made one rather unique comparison, the force of which will be recognized by residents of California, when he stated:

"Customer ownership is simply a mutualization of the utilities. The public of California is quite familiar with the operation of mutual water companies and co-operative associations for the marketing of their products and they know that it is only when those enterprises are headed by experienced managers that they are successful. The management of the Southern California Gas company is experienced and efficient."

"The rate of growth of the Southern California Gas company is strikingly shown in the fact that there has been an increase of about 48 per cent in the number of customers served in the past two years."

Tells 1923 Plans
"Capital expenditures during the year 1922 amounted to nearly $3,000,000 and will exceed that figure for 1923. The program for 1923 includes the construction of a 10,000,000 cubic foot holder at the company's works, at Eleventh and Santa Fe avenue, Los Angeles, at a cost of approximately $700,000, and the erection of a concrete five story office and store room building at the same location at an estimated cost of $450,000. It is only a year ago since the company purchased its present office building at 950 South Broadway, Los Angeles, and it was then thought the space would be adequate for all needs for a number of years to come. The company has grown so rapidly, however, that it now seems practically certain that within a year or two a considerable number of those now housed in the general office building will have to be taken care of in the proposed new works office, in order to permit necessary expansion of other departments at the general offices."

"In ability to serve its customers, the company is keeping well ahead of actual demands made upon its facilities."

Mr. Peat also pointed out the advantage to smaller communities of service rendered by a well-managed, well-financed utility company as contrasted with that rendered by some of the smaller local companies and the benefits to an investor from the standpoint of safety of his investment where the business of a company covers a number of communities and thus the value of an investment is not affected by minor disturbances of a purely local nature.

Circulars in Mail
Boxes Are Banned

Complaints have reached the postoffice here that mail boxes in the business and residence sections of Glendale have been made receptacles for advertising circulars and other matter distributed through various agencies, and Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson points out that this practice is not permitted, under the postal regulations.

Letter boxes, he points out, are for mail only, and their use for unauthorized matter is forbidden.

Sanders to Address Chamber at Covina

E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, will attend the annual meeting of the Covina Chamber of Commerce tonight, when he will speak on the Relations of citizens to a Chamber of Commerce.

Pacific and Union Pacific squabble over the Central Pacific. Practically every newspaper, every Chamber of Commerce and all prominent citizens have been flooded with propaganda regarding the merits and demerits of the number.

Evidently the Union Pacific got what it wanted in a traffic agreement permitting its use of the line as its connection to the Central Pacific coast.

Winner of Kentucky Derby Dies at 115

MISSOULA, Mont., Jan. 19.—Joseph Wells, colored, who claimed he once won the Kentucky derby and was one time a member of General Nelson A. Miles' bodyguard, died of pneumonia here at the age of 115 years. He was believed to be the oldest man in Montana.

He was born in Louisville, Kentucky, in 1807. His mother was a slave. With his mannerisms and time-warped visage, his story of how he won the Kentucky derby, strapped to the back of the winner of the Blue Grass classic, was an interesting tale.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

A VERY BRAVE DEED

I saw a man do a brave deed yesterday.

I honored him for it and yet I shuddered at his temerity.

He tipped a taxi driver five cents.

The taxi driver inspected the change in his hand and then he gave the man a look that should have struck him dead on the spot.

Perhaps you are sympathizing with the taxi driver and thinking: "What a mean man that must have been."

Not at all. As a matter of fact, he is a man who is inclined to overtip—for service. But, like many of us, he is getting thoroughly out of patience at tipping when service is absolutely lacking and even when indifference and insolence are present.

Didn't Lift a Hand—Dr. Foot

That taxi driver did absolutely nothing to deserve a tip. He did not get down from his seat and help the man and his companion in with their bags, he did not assist them out. His manner had in it that peculiar insolence which characterizes his kind. And in return for that he expected to be tipped 20c or 25c on a 50c fare.

He regarded the five cent tip in the light of an insult.

It wasn't intended as an insult, but it was intended as a rebuke.

The man could have refrained from tipping at all, but he knew that he would draw more attention to his act if he tipped five cents. And he knew rightly.

It would have been still more effective if he had informed the indignant taxi man exactly why he did it. To remove any lingering doubts in his mind. But, of course, one cannot expect too much from a brave man.

Won't the "Tippers" Tell Us

I think there are very few people in the world who would not like to see the custom of tipping whatever extra charge is necessary to reimburse the recipients of tips levied directly on whatever is bought and then given in extra wages to the worker. I don't know how the worker himself feels about it. It seems to me I know how I would feel if I had to be sure of it. I am sure the Reader Friend would like to know how the "tippers" feel if any of them should be moved to write in.

Of course, abolishing tipping would mean that extra effort to please would not be as directly rewarded as it sometimes is now. But in other lines extra effort to please usually finds its rewards in recognition and advancement. Why should it not in the lines where tips are given?

Is Anyone Brave Enough?

But whether the tip for service remains or not, I do think that the tip for custom where service is notably lacking ought to be done away with, and I honor everyone who has the courage to make a step in that direction. Save the money and give it as an extra tip the next time you get really good service. And if you are supremely brave tell the offender that that is what you are going to do. I wonder if anyone in the world is brave enough for that.

BEAUTY CHATS

FINGER NAILS

Much can be written about finger nails, for few women have really pretty ones. Don't look for beauty of nail among those who are neglectful of their hands. Dryness, dullness and a bad shape will be sure to meet your eye. That comes from neglect. And do not look for beauty of nail among the professional manicurists, edges hard and red from too constant attention, nails show the world how long a point could be filed and kept, and a brittle brilliancy of polish will meet your eye. That's from not enough wholesome neglect.

So, if you do your own nails

most of the time, as most of us do, take a warning from both extremes. Once a week is enough to manicure your fingers, the daily treatment consists only of pushing back the skin with an orange wood stick, when the hands have been washed in warm water, of a quick polish with your buffer, a touching up of the ends with the emery board twice during the week, and if the nails are dry or old, rubbing in oil when it seems necessary.

If you don't know the value of oil for the nails here's a bit from a recent letter: "So my arm was in a sling six months and my hand of course almost useless. I didn't manicure that hand much, it was so awkward, and I massaged my face daily with cold cream, using my good hand. Now the nails of that hand—with which I worked—are younger

Every Nail Can Be Well Shaped looking and prettier than the nails of the hand that rested—The letter was on another subject, but it shows the value of oil, for daily the "good" hand has

Colic

Loosen It, for a tight abdominal binder will also cause colic. Most baby doctors now believe that the abdominal binder is not necessary after the navel is thoroughly healed. An Revolt.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.
(Copyright, 1922, George Matthew Adams)

Last week I described to you the first great storm on my sea of life. And this terrible affliction, colic, has probably caused more sleepless nights and more suffering both to us and to our parents than any other storm of babyhood. I thank my lucky stars I haven't had many attacks. But one is sufficient for me to know that I want to do all I can to alleviate the sufferings of my fellow babies from the same cause.

Doctor says that babies who suffer with colic usually suffer from constipation. And nursing babies may suffer from the constipation of their mammas. Or they may have colic from anything that distresses the mamma because her milk is influenced by her nervous impressions and may be changed thereby.

Babies who are having their mammas' milk are more apt to suffer with colic the first three months. Babies who haven't the advantage of their mammas' milk are apt to suffer longer from occasional attacks of colic.

Colic may be caused by too much or too rich food, or by irregular feeding or too frequent feedings. Also if the baby is underfed there has not been enough in its bowels to stimulate the normal action of the bowels and the baby becomes constipated, and this produces colic.

This is what happens in our little bowels when we have colic. There is an irritation of the mucous membrane from some cause. Gas is produced by this irritation and the irritation and gas cause a spasm of the intestine. This spasm probably dams up the gas and it is the stretching of the bowel by the gas as well as the spasm of the bowel that causes our terrible pain. While it is terrible, it isn't dangerous, so don't worry for fear we will burst, mammas.

Gas can form from fermentation or putrefaction in the bowels. In bottle-fed babies who suffer from colic, it is not due to irregular or too frequent feedings, it may be due to too much sugar in the formula. And the sugar has to be lessened or perhaps cut out for a little while.

Besides the sugar in the formula, the fat (cream) or the protein (curds) may cause colic. Doctor says that if your babies suffer with colic you had better see your doctor and have him find out the cause.

I shall tell you how we cry when we have colic. Our cries are violent and come in waves when the paroxysms of pain come on. It is not continuous like the cry of real hunger. We give symptoms of abdominal pain. We draw our little legs up and our abdomens are usually hard and distended.

But mammas must be careful not to attribute everything to colic! Sometimes we are naughty and we scream and hold our breath and draw our legs up and kick in fury, but when we get picked up or are given what we want we stop. That's the way you can tell when we are doing that naughty thing. Don't forget though, mammas, that if we are naughty it's because you have taught us that. That's the way we get what we want.

Sometimes we cry for other reasons, such as inflammation of the ears and other inflammations. But in those cases we have a fever, and in colic we do not have a fever.

Last week I told you what was done to relieve my spasms of colic. Paregoric and soothing syrups are harmful to use, and mammas must find out what is the cause of the colic and remove the cause.

If your baby has on an abdominal binder you must be sure to

Firm Makes Money By Losing Lawsuit

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—How to clear a net profit of a million and a half marks by the loss of a lawsuit was lately demonstrated by a Cologne business man.

Two years ago the firm's agent in a neighboring branch office ordered 24,000 marks' worth of goods without being authorized by the main office, which refused to recognize the purchase.

Law proceedings were started by the purchaser, the goods being stored pending judgment.

When, after two years, judgment was recently given in favor of the purchaser, the Cologne firm was only too glad to be "sentenced" to take over the disputed goods.

Owing to the sweeping depreciation of the mark the goods had in the meantime assumed an accumulated value of nearly 2,000,000 marks, which, deducting all costs, left the buyer with a net profit of one and a half millions.

U. S. Church Work Menaced by Reds

DEFIANCE, Ohio, Jan. 18.—Agents of Soviet Russia have invaded every large city in the United States and, by means of an organized propaganda, are endeavoring to overthrow all Christian interests and everything in American life that has been developed and sponsored by the churches, according to Dr. Martyn Summerbell, Lakemont, N. Y., president of Starkey seminary and vice president of Defiance college, addressing local clergymen. He said co-operation among all the Christian forces is needed as a means for thwarting the work of paid Russian Bolshevik and Communist agents.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—The revolt in the Pacific Coast baseball league against the present system of the draft as existing between the majors and minors has led to the query: could an organization such as the Pacific Coast League, make good any threat it might make to break away from the major organization?

This is not a question that could be answered with a direct "yes" or "no" for the reason that a number of things are involved. In the first place, all of the major league teams would have to be met by a united front among the minors. Those who have ever endeavored to line up a cohort know the difficulties that exist in making persons toe the scratch when the time for action comes.

Many men and organizations will talk with a lot of bombast and say what they will and will not do until the time for action comes and then they are good dogs. It will be noted that even in the eight teams of the Pacific Coast league there is a difference of opinion, it requiring the vote of President McCarthy to break a deadlock, there being four teams aligned on each side of the question.

The foregoing statement is not exactly correct either, as the four teams that voted against McCarthy are with him in the greater part of his contention. They explained their reason for not coming in as being occasioned by the fact that they were not in favor of too drastic action, which these club officials consider McCarthy's ideas to be.

In any revolt, the matter of finances is another question that must be given the first consideration for war cannot be carried on without munitions, either on the plains of Flanders or between baseball magnates. There is no question that the Pacific Coast League has been making plenty of money since the war. The last five or six years of baseball have been the fattest the league ever has experienced from a financial point of view.

Whether or not there is enough money in the organization to finance a war is another question, but there also is no question that there are a lot of rich men who, while they have no financial interest in the Pacific Coast League, are sufficient baseball fans, like the game well enough and have a liking for the league organization to an extent that they would be quite willing to put their hands in their pockets and underwrite the proposition. It would be out of place to mention the names of any of these capitalist-sportsmen, but that they exist may be taken for granted.

Thus, if the major league organizations think at any time they can run rough-shod over the smaller fry, they may suddenly be surprised with the opposition before them. All leagues are likely to fight among themselves, and the Pacific Coast League is famous for its internal cat and dog battles at periodic intervals, but they have been known to solidify when the occasion required.

FROM DIAMOND TO BASKETBALL

One of the best basketball teams in the east is known as the "Holly Majors," being named after Ed Holly of the Boston Red Sox. The team is made up of active and retired major league baseball players. The photograph shows from left to right, seated on the floor, Al Schacht and Nick Altrock, the clowns of baseball. ## BENTON MAY GET BACK INTO GAME

Garry Herrmann Is Sounding Out Other Magnates in Regard to Matter

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The strange case of Rube Benton versus organized baseball is again coming to a boil and is soon to be given the rough dry treatment and subsequently, so we are given to understand, a thorough airing. Coincident with Judge Landis' re-opened investigation of the details in Chicago comes the information that Garry Herrmann is quietly sounding out sentiment on the Benton matter among brother magnates with the idea of making an issue of the case at the February meeting of the two major leagues. It is said that Herrmann has every hope of lining up John McGraw on his side of the controversy. McGraw has already declared that he knows of no reason by which Benton should not be allowed to ply his left-handed trade in the major leagues, and if he can be prevailed upon to cast his vote to this effect, Herrmann believes that other club owners may be influenced to do likewise.

LONG CONTRACTS FOR U. COACHES

Eastern Colleges Seek to Lure California Experts By Flattering Offers

BERKELEY, Jan. 19.—Contracts, calling for service for four or five years, will be offered three University of California coaches—Andy Smith, Boles Rosenthal and "Nibs" Price—by university officials, it was announced here. Smith's contract, it is understood, also will call for an increased salary. The action of the university officials was prompted, it was learned, because of flattering offers having been received by the coaches to align themselves with Eastern institutions after their contracts with California have expired. None of the present contracts expire until 1924.

DEMPSEY LEAVES ON EASTERN TRIP

Fight for Title May Result From Champion's Visit, Experts Declare

Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, has left Los Angeles for Salt Lake where he will stop over on his way to New York. Jack Kearns, the champion's manager, plans to leave Los Angeles this afternoon, pick up Dempsey and then set out for the Eastern metropolises. This New York trip is expected to bring out the next contender for Dempsey's crown, according to intimate friends of the champion.

SOUTH AMERICAN CHAMP TO FIGHT

Louis Firpo to Meet Brennan In Bout at Madison Square March 16

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 19.—Louis Angel Firpo, heavyweight boxing champion of South America, has accepted an offer made by Tex Rickard, New York promoter, for a bout with Bill Brennan in Madison Square Garden on March 16, he announced today. Firpo plans to sail for the United States on February 1.

If Firpo is successful in this bout he expects to be matched with Jack Dempsey within six months.

George Burns may hold his job with the Red Sox if he has a good year in hitting, and Joe Evans probably will do well enough in Washington, largely because he is a third baseman by environment and training and Clark Griffith needs one badly.

Decay Is More Dangerous Than Fire!

But Fortunately It Is Far Easier to Prevent

Statistics show that the yearly loss due to deterioration and decay is far greater than that due to fire!

A coat of paint, properly applied, will protect your property from decay. It will fill the cracks and holes where deterioration ordinarily begins. Weather and wear will be powerless against it. And its cost is comparatively low!

This fact is the more surprising when one considers that it is a matter of great difficulty to guard against fire, but that to protect one's property from decay is both easy and inexpensive.

Finishes Famous for their ability to withstand wear.

While every paint is a preservative, certain kinds are far more effective than others. On our shelves are displayed paints, varnishes, enamels, etc., which are famous all over the country for their ability to withstand wear. We will be glad to help you select from them the finish you need, carefully explaining the merits of each and which ones will best suit your purpose.

The Sport Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Merely a derelict semblance of a once proud ball club, the Cleveland Indians are preparing to start upon another campaign with hardly an outside chance of breaking into the first division. The team that won a world's championship two years ago is gone beyond recall, shot higher than a minstrel's collar, and the powdered remains blown to the four winds.

Of the original array only Tris Speaker, Stanley Coveleskie, Steve O'Neill, Bill Wambegans, Joe Sewell, Larry Gardner, Jamieson and Uhl remain. At first blush this may appear to be a rather impressive list. In fact, a year or so ago it would have been downright reassuring.

But, darling, they are growing older. Speaker, still a great outfielder and hitter in spite of the fact that his hair is almost white, is not far from the inevitable shadowland. His legs are going and gone. Coveleskie and O'Neill are not the battery they were in 1920. Larry Gardner is said to be slated for utility roles this season, and Wambegans slipped just enough to notice. Of the old machine only Sewell, Jamieson and Uhl are young enough to go on as before.

The rest of the 1920 outfit is no more. Doc Johnston has passed on out of the major leagues. So has Walter Mills, whose left hand won the pennant and two victories in the 1920 series. Also Chet Thomas, Ray Caldwell, Doc Grancy, Les Nunemaker and Harry Lunte.

Joe Wood has been granted a leave of absence to coach the Yale baseball team, which is only another way of saying that Joseph's importance around the Cleveland ball park is negligible.

Four remaining survivors of the championship machine are still in the major leagues, mostly by the grace of circumstance. Jim Bagby, leading pitcher of the American League in 1920, is to be given a chance by the Pittsburgh Pirates. It is possible but hardly probable that he will get by, since Bagby's success was due to his study of opposing batsmen and he knows next to nothing about National League players.

LOCAL INDUSTRY'S GROWTH IS GREAT

Pacific Cabinet & Fixture Company Doing Its Part In Upbuilding City

The plant of the Pacific Cabinet & Fixture company, at 819 Milford street, is another indication of the exceedingly favorable growth of industries.

Founded but eight months ago, it has expanded from one small shop into a fully equipped, up-to-the-minute, seven-unit plant, capable of delivering, at short notice, every variety of cabinet and fixture work for office, store and home.

Among the Glendale firms whose fixtures have been turned out by this plant are the Monarch Auto Supply company, Shafe's Stationery store and the Glendale Savings bank.

The owners and guiding minds of the enterprise are Robert P. McMullen and Harvey D. Van Hooklyn, the former in charge of the office and the latter of the mill.

Makes Good Record

Mr. McMullen speaks with pride of the fact that, starting so short a time ago, with so little, the concern now represents an investment in land, buildings and machinery of better than $20,000—completely paid for and owned by the company. This financial achievement has been accomplished by personal sacrifice and economy on the part of the owners, and by careful management of the plant, eliminating every discernible source of waste and putting every dollar of profit back into the business, they state.

A bird's-eye view of this plant shows it to have a frontage of 150 feet on Milford street and 150 feet on Commercial street, making a large square lot with ample room for further expansion.

A personally-conducted tour through each of the plant's seven units was made. These units consist of office, mill, cabinet room, glue room, finishing room, store room and shavings room. This latter room is the receptacle for all the sawdust and shavings of the plant, which are conducted thither by a blower-pipe system connecting with every unit. The shavings-bin, which is a sixteen-foot cube, will accommodate twenty-five truck loads of sawdust and shavings, and is elevated so that trucks may drive directly under and receive their loads without the time loss occasioned by the old method of hand loading. The saving effected by this blower system alone more than pays the entire electric fuel bill of the plant.

Labor Saving Machinery

The mill room contains many thousands of dollars' worth of the most advanced labor-saving machinery. A large sanding machine accomplishes the work of hours in as many minutes, smoothing off lumber of all sizes until it is like marble and will take the highest finish. This room also contains a moulding machine, a planing machine, a hand saw, a variety saw and a jointing machine, all of the most up-to-date design. The saw in the "jointer" makes 4700 revolutions per minute, and is adjustable to a hair's breadth measurement, making for cabinet work of perfect perfection.

The cabinet room, where the frames are mortised and assembled, carries a number of smaller machines similar in type to those in the mill room, among them a small variety saw and a small jointing machine. A novelty of this room is a special belt "sander," adapted for use in the mill room that the delicate, fine cabinet work that approaches art is done.

Large Stocks on Hand

The finishing room and glue room are further units in the progression of the cabinets and fixtures from raw wood, in terms of board feet, to the refined, completed product. Only the best quality hide glue is used, and the room where this work is done is kept at an even temperature, so that the glue may not alter in sticking qualities.

Two noticeable features of Pacific Cabinet & Fixture company's Milford street plant are—first, the large stock of various kinds kept on hand at all times, an investment of thousands of dollars in lumber, paneling, glass, and every other material that could reasonably be demanded of the mill; and, second, the very small amount of waste, visible or invisible. Mr. McMullen has made it a rule to see that no new lengths are cut until the "scrap bin," which is kept in full view, has been examined.

It is by practicing this and numerous other small and large economies that this organization has been able to make its extraordinary progress during the eight months of its existence, and keep on a sound basis. The result is a new Glendale industry with a monthly payroll of $2000, which is mounting almost monthly. This money is made in Glendale, and invested in Glendale largely—and Glendale profits thereby. This is how the city has grown and is growing.

Native of Tennessee

Mr. McMullen, the man back of this prosperous plant, is a native of Tennessee but a resident in Glendale for many years, having first come to California in 1904. For thirty years he has been in the lumber, construction, cabinet and fixture business, serving a long and patient apprenticeship that has taught him thoroughly every angle of the business.

In 1917 Mr. McMullen lent his services to the government, supervising the erection of Camp Pike, near Little Rock,

6 Ft. 4 Inch Youth Must Be Chaperoned

LEWISTOWN, Mont., Jan. 19.—Maintaining that he should be allowed to attend public dances without a chaperone, inasmuch as he is six feet four inches tall and would, in any town where he was not known, be taken for more than 21, William Wadell, 18, of this city, recently presented his case to the city fathers.

After grave consideration, they informed the young man that the Council had no power to suspend ordinances in individual cases, and the six-foot-four youth must pack along a chaperone if he desires to attend dances in his "home town."

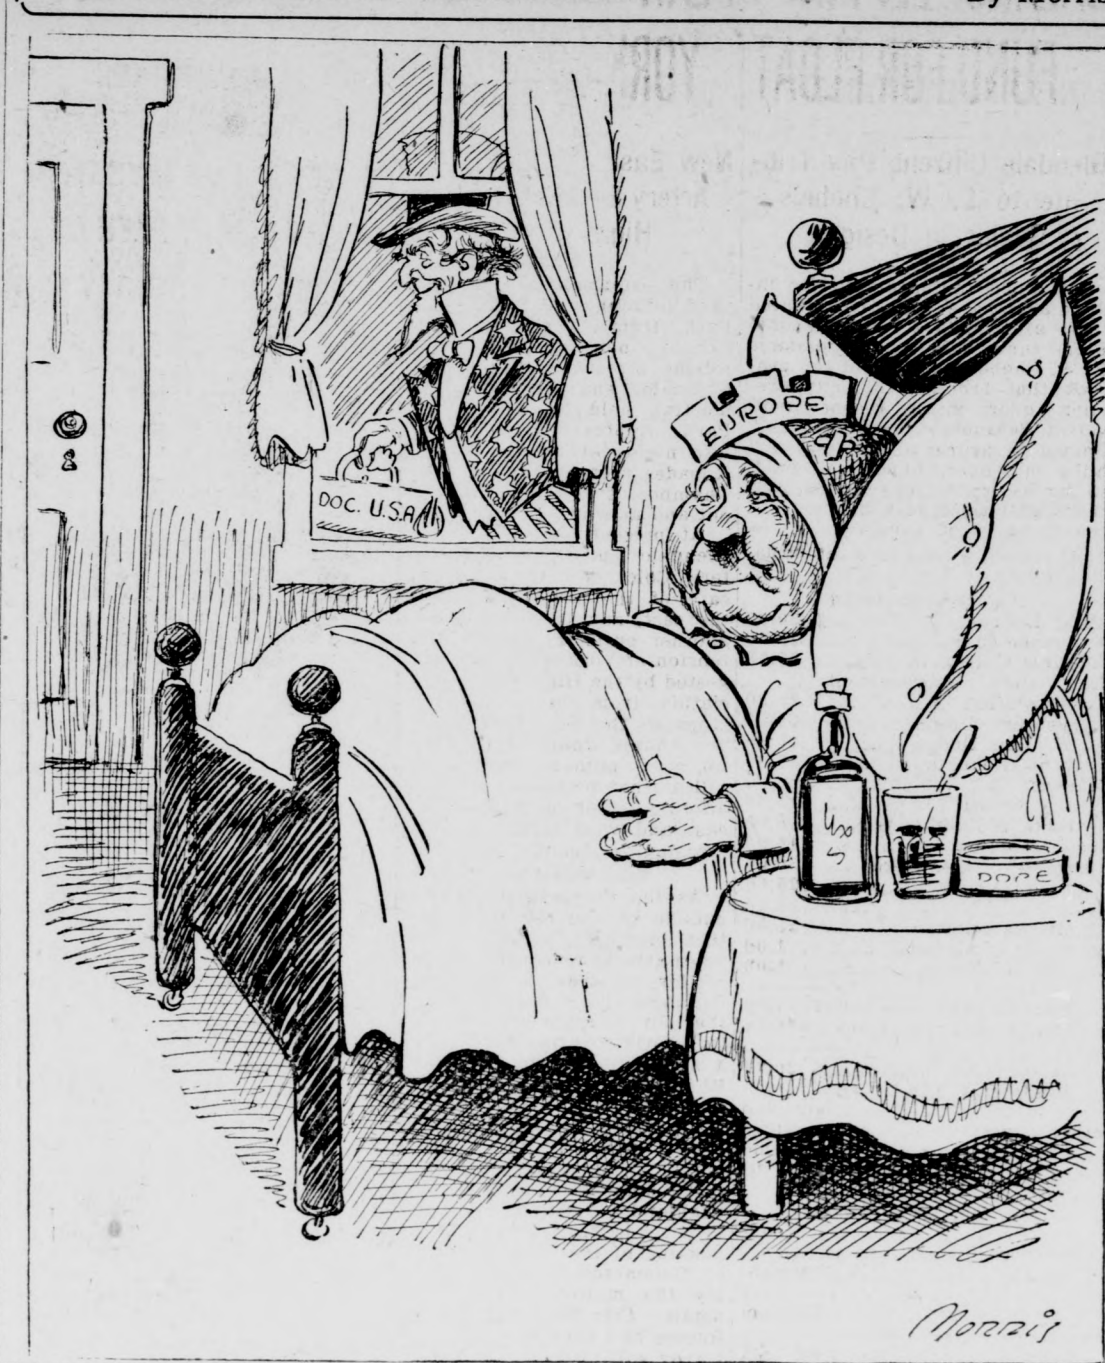

Ark. This was followed by numerous other war construction activities.

Then, in the spring of 1922, securing as a partner Mr. Van Hooklyn, Mr. McMullen obtained the corner at Milford and Commercial streets, and started building the plant that now stands there. Unit by unit these plans, making each completed unit, with those preceding it, finance the next out of profits.

The result is that, with the opening of the year 1923, this plant finds itself in a very prosperous condition, with every lathe and wheel turning to capacity, and the day book bulging with orders. "As Glendale grows, her industries grow," is once more borne out, each building up the other's prosperity. Thus is co-operation defined.

Each person lives best who does his best for one day at a time, and then refreshes himself for level best the next day.

Stocks, Markets

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Many of the leading issues reacted about 1 point in the late dealings today. U. S. Steel fell from 107 to 105 1/2. Standard Oil of New York fell 2 points to 114 1/2. The oil issues also were in supply. Standard Oil of California, reacting 2 points.

The rail shares reacted fractionally. Many specialties continued in demand.

Government bonds unchanged; railroad and other bonds irregular.

Quakes Greatest of Terrors, Says Science

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Earthquakes are undoubtedly the most terrifying trick that our usually calm and benign earth plays upon man. The terrible tragedy that has befallen our fellow Westerners, the Chileans, stirs at once sympathy and uneasiness. What is going on deep beneath these quiet fields and colossal, snow-capped mountains to cause such havoc?

It should be clearly understood at the start that the nature and composition of the earth's interior are almost as completely unknown as they ever were. A hard, fairly rigid shell envelops the earth beyond question. The earlier hypotheses were all based upon the theory that within this shell was an intensely hot molten core and that the gradual cooling of this interior contracted the whole body of the earth and wrinkled its surface very much as the skin of a dried apple is shrunken and wrinkled.

For various reasons the molten theory of the earth's interior is today viewed with considerable doubt. That most that can be accepted is that some change in the earth's interior is taking place which sets up terrific stresses and strains upon the earth's surface along certain lines. Probably cooling and contraction are the causes, and molten material is clearly present at certain points, as volcanoes prove; but the precise condition of the earth's core must be left for future scientists to determine, if they can.

What is clear is that this crumpling of the earth's surface has folded aloft on great mountain ranges and has usually taken place along certain clearly marked lines. The backbone of North and South America is one such line, and the western coast of the Pacific, from Japan south, presents tracts of similar foldings. As a result, the Pacific is more or less surrounded by high mountains or their remnants. The other great line of folding runs east and west across Europe and Asia from the Pyrenees and the Alps to the Himalayas.

Now, wherever these crumplings of the earth's surface have been greatest lie the weakest spots in its crust. When the heaving of the earth includes an area at sea bottom a great sea wave is added to the terrors of land—as at Messina, and now along the Chilean coast.

SLAYER IS DEAD

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19.—Death early today ended efforts of police surgeons to save the life of Lewis W. McKenna, who yesterday afternoon shot and killed his fiancée, Mrs. Florence Hopkinson, because she refused to marry him, and then turned the gun on himself.

No one knows when jet first came into use.

Grain Market Dull

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Grains were dull and moved sluggishly most of the session today. Prices generally held to within a narrow range, although the under current of the market was bearish. Corn and oats as a rule followed the trend of wheat. A shift to colder weather, traders said, would give the markets stimulation.

Wheat closed 1/4 @ 1/4 lower than the finish of yesterday; corn 3/4 @ 1/2 off and oats unchanged to 1/4 lower. Provisions finished strong.

Boasts Benefit Dinner

Mr. Walters, in conclusion, urged everyone able to do so by all means, to spend $25 and attend the benefit dinner that is being given the night of January 28, to complete the funds necessary for the 1923 activities of Community Service in Glendale.

Following these dissertations, President Kent extended, on behalf of the club, the right hand of fellowship to Fay G. Stone, a new member.

A letter was read by Secretary J. Herbert Smith from the Rotary club of Copenhagen, Denmark.

Richardson D. White, city superintendent of schools, spoke a few words on the school bond proposal, stating any extensive home building program necessitates a school building program to keep pace with the children.

Five visiting Rotarians were present at yesterday's meeting: J. Will Johnson of Pueblo, Colo.; Rev. John Habick of Ventura, W. C. Probert of Wahpeton, N. D.; James Cannon and James Shelton of Los Angeles.

To breathe is not to live. To live is to think, to plan, to dare, to do, to achieve, and do it all with charity in your heart.

Don't give the diseases that follow in the track of constipation a chance to lodge in your system! Get after constipation with nature's greatest helper—BRAN, Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled—because it is ALL BRAN and because it will give you permanent relief from constipation. It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that.

Bran's action is wonderful. It sweeps and cleanses and purifies. It knocks out the dangerous toxic poisons and frees the system from pollution! Try Kellogg's Bran for a week. Eat it regularly—two tablespoonfuls each day, as much each meal as chronic cases. You will be astounded at the difference in your feelings! Kellogg's Bran should not be confused with common bran which is unpalatable, indigestible, and which is cooked and all ready to serve and is really delicious. Eat it as a cereal, sprinkled over your favorite hot or cold cereal or cook or mix it with hot cereal. In the latter cases add two tablespoonfuls for each person.

Do you realize what Kellogg's Bran can do for you and for your family; do you realize that it will keep sickness away; that it will put every one on a new health footing; that it will free you all from pills and cathartics? Kellogg's Bran is particularly delectable made in raisin bread, in macaroons, popovers, muffins, etc. Recipes are printed on each package! You will say that Kellogg's Bran is a blessing to humanity. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran!

DO YOU EVER THINK OF THE FUTURE?

YESTERDAY is gone, today is here, but what about the future? Are you ready to meet certain conditions when they arrive? Have you provided a family burial plot?

A purchase of this kind should be an expense incurred but once in the history of the family.

CITY COUNCILMAN BUILDS NEW HOME

Sam A. Davis Constructs House on North Louise; Plans Business Block

Councilman Sam A. Davis is now dividing his time between the construction of his new home at 333 North Louise street and city affairs.

As soon as the Davis family are able to move into their new home, which will be in about a month, Mr. Davis expects to have his present home at 118 West Colorado street moved away and the property devoted to business interests. He stated yesterday that he had been the recipient of a number of business propositions which it had been hard to refuse.

Exterior walls of the new home are being built according to specifications originated by Mr. Davis.

Ideas in Building
Instead of being horizontal the frame work has been nailed diagonally to the skeleton. To the exterior of this framework is attached fifteen-pound felt building paper.

Instead of using a two-inch mesh wire, a one-inch mesh, which is considered over twice as strong, is being used as a base for the cement walls.

Although this house will have a large cellar, it will have no furnace, for the house is to be heated by gas-steam radiators.

Every Improvement

A shower bath is to be installed in an alcove which encloses the head of the bathtub. Space has been left in the wall of the bathroom for a built-in medicine cabinet.

A sleeping porch occupies a portion of the rear of the house. Three large windows in this room are arranged so that they drop into the walls and permit a maximum admission of fresh air.

The enclosed back porch is almost as large as the kitchen proper, although there is a large breakfast nook. The tile sink is in place already.

French windows on the south side of the dining room will look out upon a small vine-covered pergola. The front room contains a tile fireplace.

English Women in London Men's Club

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Women are invading the club life of English men.

J. Wilson Taylor, secretary of the exclusive Bath club, predicts that in the future "it will be difficult to exclude women from our clubs. This club has 2500 members, of whom 450 are women. They have their own rooms and the use of the baths on one day a week. Twenty years ago such a thing would have been unthinkable."

That statement seems to hold forth reason for protest on the part of the women—"the use of the baths on one day a week."

Governor Blaine also suggests a joint commission from the two states to settle the matter. His chances of success in withdrawing the case from the Supreme Court by action of the legislature are bettered by the fact that both houses of the legislature have majorities elected on the LaFollette-Blaine platform.

VIOLENT BATTLE
DUBLIN, Jan. 19.—A violent battle between Free Staters and republican irregulars was reported from Tipperary tonight. Airplanes took part. There were many casualties.

SUPERVISOR HERE AS CLUB'S GUEST

County Official Speaks on Regional Planning Work And Other Problems

providing a suitable entrance into Los Angeles from the San Fernando valley, and Mr. Wright declared that a contract has been let to have part of Glendale boulevard that lies in the city of Los Angeles paved at a cost of $100,000.

Two highway contracts in Los Angeles county, Mr. Wright stated, face the prospect of cancellation by the members of the newly appointed state highway commission, and the funds at the disposal of the commission are to be used in the construction of other links of highways, according to the information at the disposal of the county supervisors, but this proposed course of the commission is held to be illegal, as the people voted the $40,000,000 bond issue for the construction of a series of roads that were clearly specified at the time of the election, and any deviation from the program adopted by the vote of the people is not to be tolerated. Mr. Wright is one of a delegation that leaves today for Sacramento to protest against this action of the commission and to demand that the money voted by the people of this county be expended on the projects for which it was voted as rapidly as the funds become available.

The Glendale Realty Board voted to furnish Mr. Wright with a resolution along these lines, demanding that the original road program be adhered to by the state highway commission and protesting the cancellation of the contracts for road work in this county.

Pleas for Support
Frazier O. Reed, of San Jose, president of the California Real Estate association, made a strong plea for the support of the state organization by the members of the local board and by every real estate man and woman in the state, as the demands on its funds for the coming year promise to exceed by a substantial figure the expenses of more than $30,000 last year.

The realty dealers of California, declared Mr. Reed, are doing more to pioneer and to build up the state, making more money for the banks and for the public utility corporations, than any other agency, and an effort should be made, he asserted, to secure the support of these organizations that are benefiting so largely from the efforts of the realty men. He would not, he added, be willing to accept this support on any basis that would entail the acceptance of any dictation or of any attempt to influence any possible legislation favored by the California Real Estate association on the part of any of the contributing corporations.

Editor Tells Stand
Glenn D. Willaman, editor of California Real Estate, the official organ of the state association, spoke briefly, recounting the attitude that has been taken by the magazine on legislation that has been before the people of the state, instancing the stand it took on the proposal to prohibit the issuance of tax exempt bonds, and on the soldier bonus.

The possibility of any influence being brought to bear on the policy of the organ of the state association was strongly deprecated by several of the members present, who agreed that, while the magazine was entitled to secure business anywhere that it offered, any suggestion that such business carried with it the right to dictate the editorial policy should be signally and emphatically denied.

126 Guests Dine at Table Seating 16

ATLAS, Tex., Jan. 19.—Food for 126 guests was served at the dinner celebration of the sixtieth birthday of G. W. Matthews, farmer, near here recently. The guests were fed in relays, it taking four and one-half hours to take care of all of them. But sixteen of the visitors were able to eat at the only table provided for the occasion, the dishes being gathered up and cleaned between "first," "second," etc., tables.

Births

Mrs. C. O. Shields of 705 South Glendale avenue is the mother of a son born yesterday, Thursday, January 18, 1923 at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Steelman of 821 Milford street are parents of a daughter born this morning, Friday, January 19, 1923 at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. ANNA E. DOUGLAS
The ninety-third milestone was the last for Mrs. Anna E. Douglas who died yesterday, Thursday, January 18, 1923 at 728 South Central avenue, Eagle Rock.

Mrs. Douglas was born in the State of New York December 6, 1829. Her husband, who died a number of years ago, fought in the Civil War. She came to California twenty years ago and had lived at the place of her death for eleven months.

Mrs. Clara D. Knight, a sister, resides in Eagle Rock. A daughter, Mrs. Nellie Teller, lives in Spokane, Washington.

Funeral services will be held under the direction of Kiefer & Eyerick at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Saturday, January 20, 1923 in the chapel of Rosedale Cemetery, Los Angeles.

URGES POLICY ON STREET LIGHTING

Councilman S. A. Davis in Favor of General Levy For Some Highways

Electrically consumed by street lights on much-traversed thoroughfares should be paid for by a general tax levy in the opinion of Councilman Sam A. Davis.

"There are only two ways to pay for this 'juice,'" remarked Mr. Davis yesterday. "One way is by means of assessing the property owners along the street, and the other way is through the general tax fund." Charging it to the public service department is not fair because it has a tendency to hold light rates stiff, whereas, when this charge is removed, they will have a tendency to go down."

General thoroughfares are being used more or less continually by property owners in all portions of the city. Therefore, Mr. Davis thinks that it is only fair that all property owners should be taxed to pay the cost of maintaining lights along these streets.

Among the streets, which Mr. Davis considers as thoroughfares, are Brand boulevard, Central avenue, Broadway from Eagle Rock to San Fernando road, San Fernando road, Los Feliz road and Colorado street.

Urges Definite Policy
As residence streets are little traversed after dark except by residents, Mr. Davis believes that property owners along these streets should pay for the electricity used by their street lights.

Discrimination between residents on one thoroughfare and another is both impractical and undesirable in the opinion of Mr. Davis. He does not believe that the property owners on Brand boulevard have any more right to expect the city to maintain their street lights than the residents along Broadway or any other thorough street.

A definite general policy in regard to street lights, according to Mr. Davis, must be formulated in the near future by the City Council.

BIG BARN DANCE FEATURE TONIGHT

Affair Takes Place for Tuesday Afternoon Club Building Fund

"Choose your partners for the grand march!" is to be announced promptly at 8 o'clock tonight when Tuesday Afternoon club women will be hostesses at a big benefit barn dance in the Victor manufacturing plant at San Fernando road and Harvard street. Everyone attending is to participate in the march, which will be led by Arthur H. Dibbern, exalted ruler of the Glendale Elks' lodge, and Mrs. Dibbern.

The affair has been arranged by a group of club women under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. H. Seales, working in conjunction with Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman of the ways and means committee of the club. Tickets have been sold for 50 cents and the proceeds are to be added to the club's building fund.

Card Tables, Too
Marian Jones and orchestra will furnish the dance music and for those not caring to dance card tables will be arranged.

Mrs. Seales and her assistants have emphasized the fact that it is to be an informal dress.

Old fashioned square dances will be included in the program and will be directed by an old time caller.

MINOR OPERATION
A minor operation was performed yesterday at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital upon Mrs. Harvey Christian of 120 North Isabel street.

SAILOR IN HOSPITAL
H. M. Bunnell of the U. S. S. Mississippi had his tonsils removed this morning at the Glendale Research Hospital.

The near future by the City Council.

Bigamist Wed Man To Get Rid of Him

PONTIAC, Mich., Jan. 19.—

"Oh, I married him just to get rid of him. He bothered me so much I had to do something." With a toss of her pretty bobbed chestnut hair, Mrs. May Borman Adair, confessed bigamist, thus explained her marriage to Hugh W. Adair. At the time she married Adair the prisoner, slight of figure and pretty of face, says she already had one husband, Theodore Borman, and a daughter.

"From the time Adair met me he dogged my steps. He waited for me and walked home with me. He insisted upon being with me at every opportunity. I did not love him, but finally I married him."

Wholesale Branch Added to Business

The Premium Provision company of 123 North Glendale avenue is the name of the wholesale department of the Little Premium market.

David C. Donwell of 612 Orange Grove avenue stated this morning that the demand for good meat from residents in the San Fernando valley had encouraged him to add this department to his business.

A number of years were spent by Mr. Donwell in Chicago where he operated a meat market about three miles from the stockyards.

The establishment of the wholesale department by Mr. Donwell is a bit more evidence of Glendale's growth, it is pointed out.

LAKE'S LEVEL IS CAUSING DISPUTE

Middle-West All Worked Up About Big Drainage Canal Suits

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 16.—Six inches lower water level on Lake Michigan may cost the harbor cities of Wisconsin and Michigan millions of dollars. Sheboygan, Milwaukee and other lake ports have been responsible through their complaints that the enormous amount of water taken out of the lake by the Chicago Drainage Canal would cost them large amounts of money or the virtual ruin of their harbor, according to a suit now under advisement in the United States Supreme Court started by the State of Wisconsin against the State of Illinois.

The suit was started by Attorney-General W. J. Morgan with the consent of the Wisconsin legislature in 1921, and is similar to several suits started by the federal government against Illinois. Arguments in the case are scheduled for next spring.

Governor Suggests Plan
Now Governor John J. Blaine (Wisconsin) who refused consent to the starting of the case, has declared that the suit between the states is a basis for bad feeling and interferes seriously with the proposed waterway from the lakes to the gulf, which is bound up inextricably with Wisconsin's cherished dream, the St. Lawrence waterway from the Lakes to the Atlantic.

Governor Blaine also suggests a joint commission from the two states to settle the matter. His chances of success in withdrawing the case from the Supreme Court by action of the legislature are bettered by the fact that both houses of the legislature have majorities elected on the LaFollette-Blaine platform.
